Microcontroller and Smart Home Networks Dawoud Shenouda Dawoud, Peter Dawoud, 2022-09-01 Over recent years industries have faced the problem of how to connect devices to speak to each other with minimum wiring Philips Semiconductors faced this problem when they needed to connect many ICs together The Automotive Industry faced the same problem when it needed to connect tens of microcontrollers in each car Recently with smart homes the problem has started to be part of each home For instance you may want to build your smart home with accessories from different manufacturers and you want the devices to speak to each other Added to that you may want to control them from a central App or voice assist Solutions for this problem started with the introduction of Inter Integrated Circuits IIC and Controller Area Networks CAN Both solutions are wired networks that allow ICs and microcontrollers to be connected in a network to communicate together In smart home automation a number of common smart home automation protocols that allow different devices to speak and communicate together have appeared during the last few decades Some of the smart home protocols come under the umbrella of what is called the Internet of Things IoT The proposed protocols can be grouped into wired networks e g X10 UPB wireless or radio networks as ZigBee Z Wave Bluetooth or dual wired and radio such as Insteon This book introduces to the reader some of the most popular Microcontroller and Smart home networks The book covers in detail the following protocols I2C I3C CAN ZigBee ZigBee Pro Z Wave Bluetooth Wi Fi WiMax and Insteon are part of our companion book Serial Communication Protocols and Standards This book gives detailed comparisons between the various protocols To complete the knowledge of the reader the book gives in the last chapter a short summary on the protocols that we did not fully cover in this volume Ethernet Thread Insteon X10 and UPB Energy Conservation Guidebook Dale R. Patrick, Stephen W.

Fardo, Ray E. Richardson, Brian W. Fardo, Mark Barron, 2023-12-14 Efficient energy management and effective conservation procedures have been very important considerations for our society for many years An oil embargo in the 1970s and early 1980s brought about a new awareness of energy conservation Because of various factors like loss of tax credits and efficiency standards imposed by the government public interest dropped considerably in regard to energy conservation A revival in energy conservation among the general public occurred following the Persian Gulf War in the early 1990s What does the 21st century hold Conflicts in the Middle East high prices for petroleum and increasing population worldwide will all be significant influences on energy and its conservation Considerable discussion of climate change global warming and increased concerns in regard to our electricity supply have provided motivation for building energy demand to be more flexible Energy Management and Conservation Fourth Edition provides a very practical discussion of how energy can be managed and saved in most types of buildings This edition not only updates the previous edition but adds updated content concerning energy cost reduction going green to improve the environment The authors of this book have written several books that use the systems approach Through the use of the systems approach the reader will be able to grasp how different parts of a building fit together to form a unit that uses energy efficiently This text provides a thorough and practical discussion of the operation of systems that are found in most types of buildings Each system is discussed with energy management and conservation in mind going green to save money and improve the environment There are many ways to manage a building to accomplish efficient energy conservation Several of the chapters have checklists at the end to summarize ways of conserving energy that relate to the chapter Important changes in this edition include coverage of governmental requirements from agencies such as Environmental Protection Agency EPA United States Department of Energy USDOE and American Society of Refrigerating Heating and Air Conditioning Engineering ASHRAE updated as of 2022 standards Instrumentation updates include types of sensors and the concept of smart devices such as meters Addition of computer building maintenance management systems and new updates for renewable energy resources are included Enhancements to existing systems content such as variable frequency drives for pumps have been carefully added
