WEEK

4

DAY
1Organization

By looking at how a passage or selection is organized, students can understand the author's intent, as well as predict what information is likely to appear later in the text. Texts are often organized hierarchically, around main ideas and details, according to cause and effect, or by comparison and contrast.

Introduce the Organization skill and distribute it to students. Then introduce the Organization strategy. Say: By looking at the organization of a passage, we can get a better idea of what the author is trying to tell us. Sometimes the author will use certain words to signal how the information is organized. Tell students they are going to read a passage that gives information about how to organize a neighborhood party. Say: Look for words such as first, next, during, and after to help you understand the order of events that the author describes. Then have students read the passage. When students have finished, have them complete the strategy practice activity.

Organization

WEEK 4
DAY 2READ THE PASSAGE: As you read, look for facts and opinions about healthy snacks.Smart Snacks

It's not hard to see why cheeseburgers, fries, pizza, and ice cream are popular. They're delicious! But not everything that tastes good is good for you. The next time you need to feed, consider smart snacks.

Nearly everyone loves french fries made from potatoes. Did you know that other root vegetables taste great, too? Root vegetables include beets, carrots, and sweet potatoes. They contain important vitamins and minerals, and they can all do the jobs a potato can do. Raw carrots are crunchy and satisfying. Cooked beets and sweet potatoes are full of flavor. Peel them and cut them into sticks, just like fries. Give them a try! You'll forget all about french fries.

Discovering new foods can be fun. Plus, if you eat healthful foods, you'll be less likely to get sick. You'll also have more energy to run and play. And you will be able to think more clearly and for longer periods of time. So start snacking smartly!

STRATEGY PRACTICE: Underline two facts in the passage and draw a box around two opinions.SKILL PRACTICE: Read the items. Write your response.

1. What is the author's opinion of root vegetables? How do you know?

Resources in Education, 2001-10    Secondary School Literacy Leslie S. Rush, A. Jonathan Eakle, Allen Berger, 2007 This collection is an authoritative resource that draws on the knowledge and expertise of outstanding scholars and provides crucial information about research theory and practice related to secondary school literacy. Leading scholars along with newer researchers in literacy education address topics such as the impact of state and federal mandates on literacy instruction in secondary classrooms, English language learners, and online reading comprehension. Chapter authors include Richard L. Allington, Donna E. Alvermann, Kathleen A. Hinchman, Robert T. Jimenez, Kevin M. Leander, Alfred W. Tatum, and Robert J. Tierney, among others. Each chapter contains rich discussions of current research as well as practical classroom applications. As one reviewer noted, "Each and every chapter is well documented and presents clearly established implications for teaching tied to the latest research findings." One of the major strengths of this edited volume lies in the way it points to a remarkable consistency across research findings representing a broad spectrum of disciplinary arenas. This volume is a welcome addition for any teacher, administrator, or district looking to implement sound research based classroom practice and professional development.
