Health Promotion in Long-Term Care Facilities Kallol Kumar Bhattacharyya, 2025-06-11 This book discusses biopsychosocial barriers and facilitators of long term care services focusing on health promotional activities targeted to maximize quality of life This knowledge of meaningful activities helps to identify and improve strategies for supporting people living in long term care facilities with various chronic disorders at a deeper level Although no all encompassing theory of caregiving has yet been developed this book explores various theoretical formulations as central aspects of promoting health in long term care practices The current culture change in long term care controls the well being of the concerned person physically psychologically socially and economically In later life these issues profoundly impact individuals morbidity and lifespan Further it has been evidenced that the Centers for Medicare instead of clinical quality measures only it is influenced by residents their family members staff and administration Person centered care not only requires a culture change in how residents and caregivers work together but it also requires facilities to ensure staff deliver care with the highest possible level of empathy and adopt meaningful care practices Among the topics covered in this contributed volume Are Quality of Care and Quality of Life Synonymous in Long Term Care Aging in Place or Long Term Care Changing the Narrative to Promote Aging in Place in Long Term Care Person Centered Care and Culture Change Movement in Long Term Care Extending the Age Friendly Movement to Long Term Care Potential of Health Promotional Practices in Long Term Care Health Promotion in Long Term Care Facilities is an essential resource for a diverse readership including academics and researchers in gerontology aging studies health management and policy health sciences nursing psychology social work and public health as well as caregivers and policymakers The book s academic value from a multidisciplinary perspective would be beneficial for students in the above mentioned fields

The Palgrave Handbook of Ageing and Physical Activity Promotion Samuel R. Nyman, Anna Barker, Terry Haines, Khim Horton, Charles Musselwhite, Geeske Peeters, Christina R. Victor, Julia Katharina Wolff, 2018-03-31 The ageing of our population is a key societal issue across the globe Although people are living longer they need to be living longer in good health to continue to enjoy quality of life and independence and to prevent rises in health and social care costs This timely and ground breaking volume will provide an up to date overview of the factors that promote physical activity in later life Despite advances in the fields of gerontology and geriatrics sports and exercise science sociology health psychology and public health knowledge is largely contained within disciplines as reflected in the current provision of academic texts on this subject To truly address the present and substantial societal challenges of population ageing a multidisciplinary and collaborative approach is required This handbook will inform researchers students and practitioners on the current evidence base for what physical activities need to be promoted among older people and how they can be implemented to maximise engagement This handbook will be an invaluable resource for researchers practitioners policy makers and students across the social sciences
