Within a decade the banking world has witnessed two epochal events with potential to redraw the map of international financial centres but how much has this map actually changed since 2008 and how is it likely to change in the near future. International Financial Centres after the Global Financial Crisis and Brexit gathers together leading economic historians, geographers and other social scientists to focus on the post 2008 developments in key international financial centres. It focuses on the shifting hierarchies of New York, London, Paris, Geneva, Zurich, Frankfurt, Singapore, Hong Kong, Beijing, Shanghai and Tokyo to question whether Asian financial centres have taken advantage of the crisis in the West. It also examines the medium effects of the crisis, the level of regulation and the rise of new technology fintech. By exploring these crucial changes it questions whether shifts in the financial industry and the global landscape will render these centres unnecessary for the functioning of the global economy and which cities are likely to emerge as hubs of new financial technology The Value Line Investment Survey, 2009 Standard & Poor's Stock Reports, 2004
