No Dig No Fly No Go How Maps Restrict And Control:

No Dig, No Fly, No Go Mark Monmonier, 2010-05-15 Some maps help us find our way others restrict where we go and what we do These maps control behavior regulating activities from flying to fishing prohibiting students from one part of town from being schooled on the other and banishing certain individuals and industries to the periphery This restrictive cartography has boomed in recent decades as governments seek regulate activities as diverse as hiking building a residence opening a store locating a chemical plant or painting your house anything but regulation colors It is this aspect of mapping its power to prohibit that celebrated geographer Mark Monmonier tackles in No Dig No Fly No Go Rooted in ancient Egypt s need to reestablish property boundaries following the annual retreat of the Nile s floodwaters restrictive mapping has been indispensable in settling the American West claiming slices of Antarctica protecting fragile ocean fisheries and keeping sex offenders away from playgrounds But it has also been used for opprobrium during one of the darkest moments in American history cartographic exclusion orders helped send thousands of Japanese Americans to remote detention camps Tracing the power of prohibitive mapping at multiple levels from regional to international and multiple dimensions from property to cyberspace Monmonier demonstrates how much boundaries influence our experience from homeownership and voting to taxation and airline travel A worthy successor to his critically acclaimed How to Lie with Maps the book is replete with all of the hallmarks of a Monmonier classic including the wry observations and witty humor In the end Monmonier looks far beyond the lines on the page to observe that mapped boundaries however persuasive their appearance are not always as permanent and impermeable as their cartographic lines might suggest Written for anyone who votes owns a home or aspires to be an informed citizen No Dig No Fly No Go will change the way we look at maps forever Making Maps, Third Edition John Krygier, Denis Wood, 2016-08-02 Using a wealth of illustrations with 74 in full color to elucidate each concisely presented point the revised and updated third edition continues to emphasize how design choices relate to the reasons for making a map and its intended purpose All components of map making are covered titles labels legends visual hierarchy font selection how to turn phenomena into visual data data organization symbolization and more Back cover Design for Information Isabel Meirelles, 2013-10 Design for Information provides a series of visualizations that are analyzed for their design principles and methods This book provides critical and analytical tools that benefit the design process Writing and Translating Francophone Discourse Paul F. Bandia, 2014-01-01 This book is a much needed contribution to interdisciplinary research on the intersection of French and Francophone Studies and Translation Studies It highlights the symbiotic relationship between the two disciplines whereby theories and concepts developed in translation studies provide useful models and paradigms for studying francophone literature while major concepts that hold sway in the francophone world provide a solid basis for elucidating and understanding translation phenomena The book is at once a contribution to the growing field of postcolonial francophone studies and the sub area of postcolonial translation theory Contributors are experts from a variety of disciplines and hail from various regions across the globe What unites them is their interest in translation and its conceptualization both as an interlinguistic practice and a metaphor for intercultural communication and transcultural relations The contributions draw on literature film historical documents and critical theories by French and francophone thinkers highlighting the significance of translation for African Caribbean and migrant francophone discourse

Mapping Exile and Return Alain Epp Weaver, 2014 One of the most persistent if vexing issues facing not just theology but also political theory sociology and other disciplines is the ongoing Palestinian Israeli conflict For theology the problem is especially nettlesome on account of the church's shared history and tradition with Israel Palestinians including Palestinian Christians bear the brunt of suffering and dispossession in the current situation yet are burdened even more by Christian political appropriation of Zionism Through an analysis of Palestinian refugee mapping practices for returning to their homeland Alain Epp Weaver takes up the troubled issue of Palestinian dispossession and argues against the political theology embedded in Zionist cartographic practices that refuse and seek to eliminate evidence of co existence Instead Alain Epp Weaver offers a political theology of redrawing the territory compatible with a bi national vision for a shared Palestinian Israeli future
