Museums Without Borders Selected Writings:

Museums Without Borders Robert R. Janes, 2016 Drawing together nearly 40 years of experience Museums without Borders presents the key works of one of the most respected practitioners and scholars in the field Through these selected writings Robert R. Janes demonstrates that museums have a broader role to play in society than is conventionally assumed He approaches the fundamental questions of why museums exist and what they mean in terms of identity community and the future of civil life This book consists of four Parts Indigenous Peoples Managing Change Social Responsibility and Activism and Ethics The Parts are ordered chronologically and each begins with an introduction and an overview of the ensuing articles which situates the papers in their historical and cultural contexts Using an interdisciplinary approach that combines anthropology ethnography museum studies and management theory Janes both questions and supports mainstream museum practice in a constructive and self reflective manner offering readers alternative viewpoints on important issues Considering concepts not generally recognized in museum practice such as the Roman leadership model of primus inter pares and the Buddhist concept of mindfulness Janes argues that the global museum community must examine how they can meet the needs of the planet and its inhabitants Museums without Borders charts the evolving role of the contemporary museum in the face of environmental societal and ethical challenges and explores issues that have and will continue to shape the museum sector for decades to come This book demonstrates that it is both reasonable and essential to expand the purpose of museums at this point in history not only because of their unique characteristics and value to society but also because of Janes respect and admiration for their rich legacy It is time that museums assist in the creation of a new caring and more conscious future for themselves and their communities This can only be done through authentic engagement with contemporary issues and aspirations

Museums without Borders Robert R. Janes, 2015-12-14 Drawing together nearly 40 years of experience Museums without Borders presents the key works of one of the most respected practitioners and scholars in the field Through these selected writings Robert R. Janes demonstrates that museums have a broader role to play in society than is conventionally assumed He approaches the fundamental questions of why museums exist and what they mean in terms of identity community and the future of civil life This book consists of four Parts Indigenous Peoples Managing Change Social Responsibility and Activism and Ethics The Parts are ordered chronologically and each begins with an introduction and an overview of the ensuing articles which situates the papers in their historical and cultural contexts Using an interdisciplinary approach that combines anthropology ethnography museum studies and management theory Janes both questions and supports mainstream museum practice in a constructive and self reflective manner offering readers alternative viewpoints on important issues Considering concepts not generally recognized in museum practice such as the Roman leadership model of primus inter pares and the Buddhist concept of mindfulness Janes argues that the global museum community must examine how they can meet the needs of the planet and its inhabitants Museums without Borders charts the evolving role of the contemporary museum in the face of environmental societal and ethical challenges and explores issues that have and will continue to shape the museum sector for decades to come This book demonstrates that it is both reasonable and essential to expand the purpose of museums at this point in history not only because of their unique characteristics and value to society but also because of Janes respect and admiration for their rich legacy It is time that museums assist in the creation of a new caring and more conscious future for themselves and their communities This can only be done through authentic engagement with contemporary issues and aspirations

Engaging Communities Through Civic Engagement in Art Museum Education Bobick, Bryna, DiCindio, Carissa, 2020-12-25 As art museum educators become more involved in curatorial decisions and creating opportunities for community voices to be represented in the galleries of the museum museum education is shifting from responding to works of art to developing authentic opportunities for engagement with their communities Current research focuses on museum education experiences and the wide reaching benefits of including these experiences into art education courses As more universities add art museum education to their curricula there is a need for a text to support the topic and offer examples of real world museum education experiences Engaging Communities Through Civic Engagement in Art Museum Education deepens knowledge on museum and art education and civic engagement and bridges the gap from theory to practice The chapters focus on various sectors of this research including diversity and inclusion in museum experiences engaging communities through new techniques and museum and university partnerships As such it includes coverage on timely topics that include programs and audience engagement with the LGBTQ refugee disability and senior communities socially responsive museum pedagogy and the use of student workers This book is ideal for museum educators museum directors curators professionals practitioners researchers academicians and students who are interested in updated knowledge and research in art education curriculum development and civic engagement

Museums and Societal Collapse Robert R. Janes, 2023-10-02 Museums and Societal Collapse explores the implications of societal collapse from a multidisciplinary perspective and considers the potential museums have to contribute to the reimagining and transitioning of a new society with the threat of collapse Arguing that societal collapse is underway but that total collapse is not inevitable Janes maintains that museums are well positioned to mitigate and adapt to the disruptions of societal collapse As institutions of the commons belonging to and affecting the public at large he contends that museums are both responsible and capable of contributing to the durability and well being of individuals families and communities and enhancing societal resilience in the face of critical issues confronting our species Within the pages of this groundbreaking book Janes demonstrates how museums and their staff as key civic resources with ethical responsibilities can examine the meaning and value of their work how that work is organized and managed and to what end This is a call to action demonstrating how museums can move the conversation about collapse into society at large Museums and Societal Collapse will be essential reading for museum professionals working in museums and galleries as well as for cultural and civil society organizations around the world It will also be an essential reading for academics and students of Museum and Heritage Studies Gallery Studies Heritage Management and Arts Management Museum Activism Robert R. Janes, Richard Sandell, 2019-01-10 Only a decade ago the notion that museums galleries and heritage organisations might engage in activist practice with explicit intent to act upon inequalities injustices and environmental crises was met with scepticism and often derision Seeking to purposefully bring about social change was viewed by many within and beyond the museum community as inappropriately political and antithetical to fundamental professional values Today although the idea remains controversial the way we think about the roles and responsibilities of museums as knowledge based social institutions is changing Museum Activism examines the increasing significance of this activist trend in thinking and practice At this crucial time in the evolution of museum thinking and practice this ground breaking volume brings together more than fifty contributors working across six continents to explore analyse and critically reflect upon the museum s relationship to activism Including contributions from practitioners artists activists and researchers this wide ranging examination of new and divergent expressions of the inherent power of museums as forces for good and as activists in civil society aims to encourage further experimentation and enrich the debate in this nascent and uncertain field of museum practice Museum Activism elucidates the largely untapped potential for museums as key intellectual and civic resources to address inequalities injustice and environmental challenges This makes the book essential reading for scholars and students of museum and heritage studies gallery studies arts and heritage management and politics It will be a source of inspiration to museum practitioners and museum leaders around the globe Museum Innovation Haitham Eid, Melissa Forstrom, 2021-07-18 Museum Innovation encourages museums to critically reflect upon current practices and adopt new approaches to their civic responsibilities Arguing that museums have a moral duty to perform the book shows how social innovation can make them more equitable relevant and impactful institutions Including contributions from a diverse group of international scholars practitioners and researchers the book investigates the innovative approaches museums are taking to address contemporary social issues The volume focuses on the concept of social innovation and individual chapters address a range of crucial issues such as climate change the COVID 19 pandemic diversity and inclusion the travel ban and the repatriation of museum collections Exploring the impact that organizational structures have on museums aspirations to act as agents for social change the book also unpacks how museums can establish sustainable relationships with minority communities Proposing steps that museums can take to affirm their relevance as viable community partners the book breaks down silos and connects ideas across different areas of museum work Museum Innovation explores the role of contemporary museums in society It is essential reading for academics students and practitioners working in the museum and heritage studies field The book s interdisciplinary nature makes it also an interesting read for those working in business studies digital humanities visual culture arts administration and political science fields Museum Diplomacy Sarah E.K. Smith, Sascha Priewe, 2023-09-05 Museum diplomacy has come to new prominence in the contemporary moment Museums have increasingly global agendas advancing diverse international partnerships across the world Moreover they hold the potential to advance cross cultural education and foster mutual understanding at a moment when we are beset by global challenges Acknowledging the troubled histories of these institutions and their contested status Museum Diplomacy How Cultural Institutions Shape Global Engagement recognizes the pivotal contributions of museums global work while also grappling with the significant issues questions and possibilities that these activities raise The collection features examinations of museum diplomacy by fifteen leading scholars and museum practitioners These texts address global case studies that speak to museum practices related to objects collections and people and charting foundational concepts and ideas Taken as a whole the book provides contemporary examples grounded in historic context along with provocations and explorations of best practices providing points for reflection along with guidance for practitioners and scholars alike Through these wide ranging contributions Museum Diplomacy also contributes a new understanding of cultural diplomacy that recognizes the vital diplomatic work of curators museum administrators and other museum professionals as well as how these practitioners exert their own agency in ways that may or may not align with broader government and institutional agendas Ultimately Museum Diplomacy calls on the sector to rethink their perceptions of cultural diplomacy and embrace an expansive understanding of the diplomatic practitioner
