Emmy ,2003    The War in Iraq and Why the Media Failed Us David Dodge,2006-07-30 Polls show that a sizeable portion of the American population believes that troops found WMD in Iraq and that Saddam Hussein was somehow responsible for the attacks of September 11 Even after the 9 11 Commission Report and numerous other reports have concluded that our intelligence was flawed people in the freest nation on earth continue to be misinformed about something that could not be more vital to understand the reasons for sending troops into harm s way This insightful analysis argues that the media should have done a better job of performing its traditional role of skeptic and watchdog and it examines what went wrong There are of course many people whose support for going to war in Iraq was not contingent on the existence of WMD or a connection to al Qaeda But many others based their support for the war on misinformation Dodge explores why the media did not aggressively investigate the claims made by the administration and intelligence agencies in short why they did not do their job to fully inform the citizenry to the best of their ability He examines pressures from the Bush administration pressures from corporate consolidation of media ownership patriotism and self censorship and other factors He concludes with recommendations for ways in which the media can improve their reporting on government    USA Today Index ,1996
