Meeting the Universe Halfway Karen Barad, 2007-07-11 A theoretical physicist and feminist theorist Karen Barad elaborates her theory of agential realism a schema that is at once a new epistemology ontology and ethics Virginia Woolf in Context Bryony Randall, Jane Goldman, 2012-12-17 Covering a wide range of historical theoretical critical and cultural contexts this collection studies key issues in contemporary Woolf studies Spectrality and Survivance Marija Grech, 2022-05-16 The notion of the Anthropocene is founded on the premise that traces of human activity on the earth will remain legible in the geological strata for millions of years to come showing evidence of an anthropogenic signature inscribed in the rock by the human species Spectrality and Survivance shows how embedded in this understanding of the Anthropocene is a speculative and specular gesture that transforms the notion of the future into an anthropocentric reflection of the present prohibiting any true engagement with the possibility of a non anthropocentric and post anthropocenic world In this volume Marija Grech develops an alternative conceptual paradigm from which to think the Anthropocene beyond any limited notion of human language human thought human systems of meaning or even a human world Grech considers how the geological trace of the Anthropocene might be said to survive outside of the possibility of any human readership and how the very survival of the human in and beyond the Anthropocene might necessitate such thought

Cluttered Universes of Samuel Beckett and Tadeusz Kantor Michał Kisiel, 2025-08-08 Cluttered Universes of Samuel Beckett and Tadeusz Kantor is a collection of four essays bringing Kantor's and Beckett's texts theatres and theories into conversation with deconstruction new materialism environmental humanities and posthumanism This book is dedicated to two artists rarely discussed together to see how their awareness of poetics and performativity of matter might help us understand our connection to the material world even if the world is falling apart Jane Bennett Karen Barad Rosi Braidotti Donna Haraway Timothy Morton and others pave the way for new critical interpretations of canonical works which are recognised as universes cluttered with matter objects things and other nonhuman visitors of seemingly exclusive human domains Kisiel shows that Beckett's and Kantor's carefulness and care for imagining nonhuman human relationships might refresh our understanding of memory togetherness death or even the end of the world for the Anthropocene Meeting the universe halfway, 2018 Elemental Difference and the Climate of the Body Emily Anne Parker, 2021-06-17 Political hierarchies and ecological crises are often considered to be two different problems For example many speak in the present of parallel concerns climate change and racial injustice Emily Anne Parker argues rather that these concerns share a common cause in the polis Polis is an ancient Greek term for the city state from which the English term political derives But polis is more than a term It is a philosophy according to which there is one complete human body and that body is meant to govern all other things In that sense there are not two concerns but instead one concern to perceive the ways in which this tradition of the polis constrains the present Emily Anne Parker bridges the insights of social constructionism and new materialisms to create a philosophy of elemental difference Difference rather than needing to be either dismissed based on its social construction or reified in keeping with the hierarchies of the polis is crucial for addressing contemporary crises of the polis

Abolition in Social Work and Human Services Ian Kelvin Hyslop, Bob Pease, 2025-09-11 Globally social workers are committed to human rights and challenging unjust social structures However their close ties to the state often reinforce such systems of oppression The first to apply abolitionist theory from international perspectives to social work this book examines this contradiction exploring whether social work can embrace radical change while operating within state structures Bringing together scholars from the United States Canada England Ireland Scotland Finland Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand it explores alternatives for addressing issues such as child protection mental health violence against women drug use violent extremism homelessness and Indigenous sovereignty Essential reading for academics researchers students human service practitioners and social activists this book interrogates the implications of social work's complicity with systems that perpetuate oppression and social injustice

The Moral Singularity: How Artificial Intelligence Will Reshape Ethics, Power, and the Future of Meaning Pitshou Moleka, 2025-08-13 Academic Paper from the year 2025 in the subject Computer Sciences Artificial Intelligence grade 19 language English abstract The Moral Singularity How Artificial Intelligence Will Reshape Ethics Power and the Future of Meaning offers a pioneering synthesis of transdisciplinary insights into the moral implications of artificial intelligence AI on human societies governance and philosophical inquiry In an era marked by the rise of autonomous complex AI systems traditional moral frameworks founded on human centric assumptions are no longer sufficient to address the ethical dilemmas posed by these new technologies This book challenges conventional paradigms and introduces the concept of the Moral Singularity a moment in which AI will radically transform human ethics and moral responsibility much as the technological singularity is said to alter intelligence itself Drawing on a diverse range of philosophical religious and ethical traditions including Ubuntu Islamic jurisprudence and Christian ethics the book proposes new models for understanding moral agency responsibility and justice in a world shared with intelligent machines The book explores how African relational ethics Ubuntu Islamic concepts of justice Adl and moral accountability and Christian principles of stewardship and the Imago Dei can collectively inform AI ethics in a global context offering a more holistic and inclusive approach to the ethical governance of emerging technologies Central to the work is the development of two groundbreaking theoretical frameworks Distributed Responsibility Theory DRT which reconceptualizes moral accountability in decentralized and autonomous systems and Ecological Moral Sovereignty EMS which emphasizes the interdependent relationship between human society AI systems and the ecosystem The Moral Singularity provides a visionary analysis of the role of AI in shaping not only the future of technology but also the future of humanity's moral landscape proposing a new ethics capable of navigating the complexities of AI in an interconnected world

Rhythms of Life Frédérique Apffel-Marglin, 2008 The nine essays are based on the author's fieldwork in Puri Orissa between 1975 and 1993

During this eighteen year period she focused on two sets of rituals one in and around the temple of Jagannatha studied mostly through the lens of the rituals of the Devadasis the other the festival of Raja Parba at Bali Haracandi which celebrates the menses of the earth the sea the goddess and women BOOK JACKET Feminist Politics Deborah Orr,Dianna Taylor,Eileen Kahl,Kathleen Earle,Christa Rainwater,2007 The essays in Feminist Politics contest some of the prevailing conceptualizations of identity and difference as well as the functions of these concepts in feminist political discourse and praxis Doing so they amply demonstrate that issues of identity and difference have a central place in contemporary feminist scholarship The authors of these essays have worked to develop new ways of understanding and living out differences which will both preserve and celebrate them while also fostering the necessary conditions for opening dialogue and forming new coalitions The intent of these efforts has been to thereby engender imaginative new strategies for the personal spiritual and sociopolitical changes that will enable human growth wellbeing and flourishing While the focus of the work represented here is understandably on women the issues that are raised are given additional urgency explicitly in some of the papers and implicitly in others by the situation of their concerns in the context of the world created by the Bush administration Because that administration has foregrounded issues of identity and difference in ways that are not only inhumane and often inaccurate but dangerous for all of us the new ways of thinking and acting that are proposed here have a much broader application Thus these papers truly invite not only feminists but all people to move in new directions Taken as a whole this volume represents cutting edge thinking from an international perspective in these important and pressing areas for feminist research and praxis Manifest Your Dreams: Rituals and Practices for Living Your Best Life Victoria Maxwell,2023-05-25 Take destiny into your own hands and transform your life through positive change and thought Tactical Biopolitics Beatriz Da Costa,Kavita Philip,2008 Scientists scholars and artists consider the political significance of recent advances in the biological sciences "Indian-made" Joanne Marie Barker,2000 Escape Routes Dimitris Papadopoulos,Niamh Stephenson,Vassilis Tsianos,2008-08-14 Shows how we can resist increasingly advanced methods of state control by refusing to conform to accepted behavioural norms Technobibliocapital Scout Calvert,2008 Rethinking Globalization Richard Worthington,2000 Annotation Reveals conceptual foundations of global processes describes the political economy of high tech global production and challenges its authenticity and inevitability Argues that policy is driven by a technocratic mindset that addresses social and ecological problems through ineffective half measures and shows that the most compelling examples of social improvement stem from grassroots activism and social movements Lacks a subject index The author teaches politics and chairs the Program in Public Policy Analysis at Pomona College Annotation copyrighted by Book News Incorporated Portland OR The Ethnography of a South Indian God Gillian Marie Goslinga,2006 Technonatures Damian F. White,Chris Wilbert,2009-05-19 International contributors map the political ecologies of our technonatural present and indicate possible paths for technonatural futures Qui Parle ,2010 Bookchin Damian F. White,2008-10-20

This is the first comprehensive overview of the work of Murray Bookchin the left libertarian social theorist and political ecologist who is widely regarded as the visionary precursor of anti corporate politics Bookchin s writing spans fifty years and engages with a wide variety of issues from ecology to urban planning from environmental ethics to debates about radical democracy Weaving insights from Hegel and Marx Kropotkin and Mumford Bookchin presents a critical theory whose central utopian message is things could be other than they are This accessible introduction maps the evolution of Bookchin s project It traces his controversial engagements with Marxism anarchism critical theory postmodernism and eco centric thought It evaluates his attempt to develop a social ecology Finally it considers how his thinking relates to current debates in social theory and environmentalism critical theory and philosophy political ecology and urban theory Offering a clear account of Bookchin s key themes this book provides a critical but sympathetic account of the strengths and weaknesses of Bookchin s writing
