Operationalized Psychodynamic Diagnosis OPD-2 OPD Task Force, 2008-01-01 Operationalized Psychodynamic Diagnosis OPD is a form of multiaxial diagnostic and classification system based on psychodynamic principles analogous to those based on other principles such as DSM IV and ICD 10. The OPD is based on five axes I experience of illness and prerequisites for treatment II interpersonal relations III conflict IV structure and V mental and psychosomatic disorders in line with Chapter V F of the ICD 10. After an initial interview lasting 1 2 hours the clinician or researcher can evaluate the patient's psychodynamics according to these axes and enter them in the checklists and evaluation forms provided. The new version OPD 2 has been developed from a purely diagnostic system to include a set of tools and procedures for treatment planning and for measuring change as well as for determining the appropriate main focuses of treatment and developing appropriate treatment strategies.

How to Operationalize Gender Issues in Country Work International Monetary Fund. Strategy, Policy, & Review Department, 2018-06-13 Reducing gender gaps can have important economic benefits. Gender gaps remain significant on a global scale both with respect to opportunities and outcomes. For example gender based legal restrictions in many parts of the world as well as barriers in access to education healthcare and financial services prevent women from fully participating in the economy. In turn labor force participation rates are lower among women than men. Gender equality can play an important role in promoting economic stability by boosting economic productivity and growth enhancing economic resilience and reducing income inequality. The Fund has begun operationalizing gender issues in its work. Staff has contributed to the economic literature through country level and cross country analytical studies confirming the macro criticality of gender issues in a broad set of circumstances. Gender issues are also increasingly becoming an integral part of capacity development through technical assistance and training. And in country work two waves of gender pilots have been completed encompassing both surveillance and Fund supported programs and covering all regions of the world and all levels of income and a third wave is under way. Coverage of gender issues in staff reports should be selective and calibrated to the degree of macroeconomic significance. All teams should consider whether gender issues are relevant taking into account also the authorities priorities but with no presumption that gender issues will be covered everywhere or every year and with in depth coverage anticipated in only a limited number of cases any year. Staff should point to macroeconomic significance where it exists with analysis focused on aspects with economic implications and specific policy advice limited to areas where there is Fund expertise. Where relevant country teams should leverage external expertise. This note provides an overview of good practices and resources available to staff. The note is consistent with the 2015 Guidance Note for Surveillance Under Article IV Consultations and draws also on the 2013 Guidance Note on Jobs and Growth Issues in Surveillance and Program Work. It provides examples of good practice with respect to coverage of gender issues in country reports and lays out the resources available to country teams both with respect to existing analytical work as well as the availability of data and tools.
