Competing with Disruptive Business Models in Traditional Industries.

Conceptualisation of a Strategic Framework Nils Berkemeyer, 2016-05-06 Master's Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 10 Cass Business School language English abstract An increasing number of journalistic articles and academic literature deal with the struggle of established companies to fend off the attacks by industry newcomers such as Airbnb Spotify Netflix Google and many others These companies enter traditional industries with innovative business models and compete in a manner which makes it challenging for incumbent firms to understand their novel competition and respond effectively This study introduces a typology of three stages of industry disruption that classify the newcomer's developmental stage and describe the incumbent's competitive position in terms of competition intensity and remaining time to respond It is demonstrated how incumbents may conduct their strategic reasoning along these stages to arrive at a strategic goal and evaluate possible counter measures

Revolutionizing EFL Learning. Integrating Podcasts to Enhance

Communicative, Intercultural, and Media Literacy Skills Jessica Büscher, 2024-07-22 Master's Thesis from the year 2022 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade 1.0 University of Paderborn language English abstract This paper explores how podcasts can revolutionize learning in the EFL English as a foreign language classroom. Not only are podcasts easily accessible and transcend knowledge barriers but they also foster close knit communities and offer a variety of genres and formats. Although increasingly popular with young adults their potential often remains untapped in schools. This study aims to show how teachers can use podcasts effectively in the classroom to promote communicative intercultural and media literacy skills. With concrete application examples and creative teaching concepts we want to give teachers the tools to integrate podcasts profitably into EFL lessons and thus make learning more exciting and interactive

Bloomberg Businessweek, 2010-04 Vanity Fair, 2016 Parliamentary Debates (Hansard), Great

Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 2013 Show me your playlist and I tell you who you are Kathrin Rochow, 2012-11-28 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2010 in the subject Psychology Social Psychology grade 1.0 Uppsala University language English abstract In the age of social networking and music streaming playlists are a common tool for organizing sharing or exchanging music in the digital realm. Most research however emphasizes mainly political legal and ethical constraints of music sharing practices yet neglects their social impact. Thus this paper investigates the social psychological foundation of the playlist and analyses its functionality in establishing social relations and communication. Following the theories of Cooley Mead Simmel and Solomon I conducted and analysed interviews with young Swedish men and women in which they talked about their experiences and attitudes towards playlists. Moreover all participants compiled their own personal playlist based on certain personality traits which were aimed to be recognized by the others during the focus group discussion. The analysis of the data yields the following conclusions. The playlist is a social object facilitating new forms of communication. The social nature of the playlist is based on the transformation from objective into subjective culture. By internalizing new technologies such as the playlist objects gain social value thus mere musical content becomes a social form. It is through sharing and exchanging musical compilations that the playlist as a social form serves as a vehicle or medium facilitating new forms of sociation and communication. The communicative function of the playlist is due to its construction through emotions as uniquely subjective judgements based on the I as an emotional self feeling. Thus musical compilations take part in the self construction process and can serve as a tool for the symbolic expression of the self. Moreover the analysis points out that there are differences in how well certain parts of the self can be communicated by a playlist. Emotional expressions of the self are translated into particular universal music patterns most successfully. Furthermore the analysis shows that some people like to browse through the playlists of others and judge them thereupon which results in some type of musical voyeurism termed playlistism. In conclusion I argue that the musical playlist is both socially implicated and socially implicating
