Voices in the Code David G. Robinson, 2022-09-08 Algorithms rules written into software shape key moments in our lives from who gets hired or admitted to a top public school to who should go to jail or receive scarce public benefits Such decisions are both technical and moral Today the logic of high stakes software is rarely open to scrutiny and central moral questions are often left for the technical experts to answer Policymakers and scholars are seeking better ways to share the moral decisionmaking within high stakes software exploring ideas like public participation transparency forecasting and algorithmic audits But there are few real examples of those techniques in use In Voices in the Code scholar David G Robinson tells the story of how one community built a life and death algorithm in an inclusive accountable way Between 2004 and 2014 a diverse group of patients surgeons clinicians data scientists public officials and advocates collaborated and compromised to build a new kidney transplant matching algorithm a system to offer donated kidneys to particular patients from the U S national waiting list Drawing on interviews with key stakeholders unpublished archives and a wide scholarly literature Robinson shows how this new Kidney Allocation System emerged and evolved over time as participants gradually built a shared understanding both of what was possible and of what would be fair Robinson finds much to criticize but also much to admire in this story It ultimately illustrates both the promise and the limits of participation transparency forecasting and auditing of high stakes software The book's final chapter draws out lessons for the broader struggle to build technology in a democratic and accountable way

The Future of Unions and Worker Representation Anthony

Forsyth,2022-01-13 This book charts the path to revitalisation for trade unions in Australia the USA the UK and Italy It examines the examples of innovation and digital campaigning that are enabling unions to build new forms of worker power and overcome decades of declining membership wrought by neoliberalism globalisation and hostility from employers and the state The study evaluates the responses of unions in each country to falling membership levels since the 1980s It considers the US organising model and its adoption in Australia and the UK comparing this with the strategies of Italian unions which have been more deliberately focused on precarious and migrant workers The increasing reliance of US unions on community alliances as seen in the Fight for 15 and similar campaigns is scrutinised along with new union prototypes like Hospo Voice in Australia the Independent Workers Union of Great Britain and SI Cobas in Italy The book includes an in depth analysis of union responses to the gig economy in the four countries and the emergence of self organised worker collectives to combat this exploitative business model The vital role played by unions in defending the interests of workers during the COVID 19 pandemic is also examined As well as highlighting the most successful union initiatives to meet the challenges of the past 30 years the book assesses the strengths and deficiencies of the legal framework for union representation in the four nations It identifies the labour law reforms needed to rebuild collectivism but argues that more is needed than favourable laws This cross national study provides a rich basis for identifying the combination of reforms strategies and linkages required to ensure that unions can remain relevant for a new generation of digitally active workers The Methodist Review Quarterly ,1919 2018 Sunset Review, Public Utilities Commission Colorado.
