The book begins by framing general music as a holistic music education that is comprehensive, meaningful and relevant to diverse learners in school and community settings. It is followed by chapters that are organized into one of four dimensions of music practice: performing, connecting, creating and responding. Chapter authors share creative and innovative teaching ideas for both elementary and secondary school students that focus on a wide range of topics including songwriting, composing, improvising, singing, moving, playing, listening, analyzing, contextualizing and connecting. Each chapter provides a rationale for a given area of music study, establishing its importance and relevance; b. a research or theoretical background to inform and guide practice; and c. a pedagogical model or framework illustrated through lesson ideas, curriculum units or vignettes. The ideas in this book seek to inspire and guide teachers as they build comprehensive music programs that are informed by students and communities.

Composition Adri Janse Van Rensburg, 2000 How to Maximize Your Child's Learning Ability Lauren Bradway, Barbara Albers Hill, 2012-05-25. Over twenty years ago, Dr Lauren Bradway discovered that all children use one of three distinct ways to grasp and remember information. Some learn best through sound and language, others through visual stimulation and others through touch. In this unique book, Dr Bradway first shows you how to determine your child's inherent style. She then aids you in carefully selecting the toys, activities and educational strategies that will help reinforce the talents your child was born with and encourage those skills that come less easily.
