Muslim Women In America The Challenge Of Islamic Identity Today:

Muslim Women in America Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad,Jane I. Smith,Kathleen M. Moore,2006-03-02 The treatment and role of women are among the most discussed and controversial aspects of Islam The rights of Muslim women have become part of the Western political agenda often perpetuating a stereotype of universal oppression Muslim women living in America continue to be marginalized and misunderstood since the 9 11 terrorist attacks Yet their contributions are changing the face of Islam as it is seen both within Muslim communities in the West and by non Muslims In their public and private lives Muslim women are actively negotiating what it means to be a woman and a Muslim in an American context Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad Jane I Smith and Kathleen M Moore offer a much needed survey of the situation of Muslim American women focusing on how Muslim views about and experiences of gender are changing in the Western diaspora Centering on Muslims in America the book investigates Muslim attempts to form a new American Islam Such specific issues as dress marriage childrearing conversion and workplace discrimination are addressed The authors also look at the ways in which American Muslim women have tried to create new paradigms of Islamic womanhood and are reinterpreting the traditions apart from the males who control the mosque institutions A final chapter asks whether 9 11 will prove to have been a watershed moment for Muslim women in America This groundbreaking work presents the diversity of Muslim American women and demonstrates the complexity of the issues Impeccably researched and accessible it broadens our understanding of Islam in the West and encourages further exploration into how Muslim women are shaping the future of American Islam

Becoming American? Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad, 2022-09-15 Countless generations of Arabs and Muslims have called the United States home Yet while diversity and pluralism continue to define contemporary America many Muslims are viewed by their neighbors as painful reminders of conflict and violence In this concise volume renowned historian Yvonne Haddad argues that American Muslim identity is as uniquely American it is for as any other race nationality or religion Becoming American first traces the history of Arab and Muslim immigration into Western society during the 19th and 20th centuries revealing a two fold disconnect between the cultures America's unwillingness to accept these new communities at home and the activities of radical Islam abroad Urging America to reconsider its tenets of religious pluralism Haddad reveals that the public square has more than enough room to accommodate those values and ideals inherent in the moderate Islam flourishing throughout the country In all in remarkable succinct fashion Haddad prods readers to ask what it means to be truly American and paves the way forward for not only increased understanding but for forming a Muslim message that is capable of uplifting American society

Encyclopedia of Islam in the United States Jocelyne Cesari, 2007 Some scholars believe that the influence of Islam in the United States can be traced back to Thomas Jefferson Today Islam and American Muslim populations are growing in importance in this country and demand for information about them is high especially in the aftermath of September 11 2001 This A to Z encyclopedia will help students and other readers get a fast grip on pertinent holidays terms beliefs practices notables and sects of the Islamic faith and Muslim practitioners in the United States The accompanying primary documents volume provides 93 crucial articles speeches essays poems songs and more to flesh out the encyclopedia entries This encyclopedia and primary documents set the first on the topic and for the general reader is a must have for every library The primary focus is contemporary but the entries are historically contextualized so the fuller picture of origins outside the country and practice now in the United States is clear Further reading suggestions accompany each entry The primary documents volume enhances the encyclopedic entries with annotated selections such as an article from an entry on a leading Muslim American magazine or an essay by a Muslim American scholar to illuminate an entry on her This will be a boon for students doing reports on Islam and for non Muslims looking to learn about Muslims in an objective broad way It is clearly and authoritatively written and compiled by a host of scholars primarily from Harvard University's Center for Middle Eastern Studies An introduction chronology selected bibliography set index and photos round out the set Sample entries African Americans Bush George W Calendar Dietary

The
Contemporary Middle East Ann Elizabeth Mayer,2010-07-27 An updated collection of incisive essays on contemporary political situations in the Middle East with emphases on Israel Palestine Iraq and Iran Women: Images & Realities, A Multicultural Anthology Amy Kesselman,Lily D McNair,Nancy Schniedewind,2008 This best selling anthology is a unique introduction to feminism and women s studies It presents a multidisciplinary collection of academic essays and analyses personal narratives and fiction and poetry about women's lives. The selections illustrate the variety of women's experiences primarily in the United States, considering both commonalities and differences among women and appreciating women's diverse approaches to living and fostering change. The Muslim World Book Review, 2006. Girl Culture: Girl culture A to Z Claudia Mitchell, Jacqueline Reid-Walsh, 2008. Investigates the increasingly complex relationships, struggles, obsessions and idols of American tween and teen girls. From pre school to high school and beyond this work tackles many hot button issues including the barrage of advertising geared toward very young girls emphasizing sexuality and extreme thinness.

Encyclopedia of Religion in America Charles H. Lippy, Peter W. Williams, 2010. Explores the origins, development, influence and interrelations of the many faiths practiced in North America including major world religions and emerging sects, cults and movements. Muslim Women Shahnaz Khan, 2000. Finally a book about and by North America's Muslim woman. A book that examines the dualism within both Orientalism and Islam. A rich textual narrative of what it means to be a Muslim woman who comes from a different place living in white Canada. Saraswati Sunindyo, University of Washington Seattle. Brings into the light the complex and contradictory ways in which Muslim women in marginalized locations negotiate through resistance and collusion the encounter with sexism and racism. Minoo Moallem, San Francisco State University. Stereotypes depict Muslim women as exotic, oppressed by Islam, subject to rigid notions of how to be an authentic and proper Muslim. Moving beyond traditional Western Orientalist and patriarchal discourse, Shahnaz suggests how Muslim women living in North America form their Islamic identity. Using interviews with 14 Muslim women from Canada, the author herself an immigrant, examines how the women challenge and resist the stereotypes and achieve new ways of being Muslim. Her analysis provides an account of the trauma they experience during dislocation and of their behavior in everyday encounters with racism, sexism and stereotyping in such areas as employment, education and parenthood. Her conclusions challenge the perceptions of Islam as monolithic and static and she argues expose the hidden agendas of political strategies that seek to constrain diverse ethnic groups. Resisting easy explanations about Muslim identity, this book makes a contribution to understanding the intersection of race, class, gender, sexuality and religion in the experience of Muslim women living in Canada. It will be of interest to scholars in women's and cultural studies, diasporic studies and modern Islamic studies. Shahnaz Khan is assistant professor of sociology and women's studies at St Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, Canada. She has published articles on Muslim women and immigration in such journals as Signs, Legal Studies Forum and Journal of Ethnic Studies. Islam in America, 1994. The Ahfad Journal, 2006. Cultural Encyclopedia of the Body: M-Z Victoria Pitts-Taylor, 2008. Explores the human body alphabetically by part, detailing practices and beliefs from the past and present and from around the world.
