Abstract    Guidelines for Process Safety in Batch Reaction Systems American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Center for Chemical Process Safety, 1999-09-15 A group of volunteer professionals representing major chemical pharmaceutical and hydrocarbon processing companies began working together in 1997 to describe the safe design and operation of batch reaction systems. They identify safety concerns unique to batch reaction systems, provide guidance by which engineers can identify issues in particular systems, offer a range of criteria and techniques for developing, designing, operating and maintaining systems to reduce risk and ensure the safety of people, the environment and property, and list sources of specific expertise and references. They do not focus on occupational safety and health issues except as far as improved process safety can benefit nor do they go into detailed engineering designs. They do include a glossary of technical uses of otherwise ordinary words. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
