Human Extinction Émile P. Torres, 2023-06-15 This volume traces the origins and evolution of the idea of human extinction from the ancient Presocratics through contemporary work on existential risks Many leading intellectuals agree that the risk of human extinction this century may be higher than at any point in our 300 000 year history as a species This book provides insight on the key questions that inform this discussion including when humans began to worry about their own extinction and how the debate has changed over time It establishes a new theoretical foundation for thinking about the ethics of our extinction arguing that extinction would be very bad under most circumstances although the outcome might be on balance good Throughout the book graphs tables and images further illustrate how human choices and attitudes about extinction have evolved in Western history In its thorough examination of humanity's past this book also provides a starting point for understanding our future Although accessible enough to be read by undergraduates Human Extinction contains new and thought provoking research that will benefit even established academic philosophers and historians

Historical Roots of Spontaneous Symmetry Breaking Rocco Gaudenzi, 2022-04-28 What are the thinking processes and knowledge resources involved in a complex discovery How can the physics of solids the physics of nuclei and elementary particle physics cross fertilise in spite of the widely differing domains and energy scales they deal with This book addresses the questions by reconstructing and examining from the historical epistemological perspective the fascinating heuristic path to the concept of spontaneous symmetry breaking This analysis especially brings to light the role that analogical reasoning and mathematical reformulations played in the discovery process as well as the influence of the Japanese milieu and approach to physical problems Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1977 Scientific and Technical Organizations and Agencies Directory Peter D.
