NATURALISM DEFEATED?

ESSAYS ON PLANTINGA'S
EVOLUTIONARY ARGUMENT
AGAINST NATURALISM

Naturalism Defeated

James K. A. Smith, Amos Yong

Naturalism Defeated:

Naturalism Defeated? James K. Beilby, 2002 Plantinga's argument is aimed at metaphysical naturalism or roughly the view that no supernatural beings exist. Naturalism is typically conjoined with evolution as an explanation of the existence and diversity of life. Plantinga's claim is that one who holds to the truth of both naturalism and evolution is irrational in doing so. More specifically, because the probability that unguided evolution would have produced reliable cognitive faculties is either low or inscrutable, one who holds both naturalism and evolution acquires a defeater for every belief he/she holds, including the beliefs associated with naturalism and evolution. The Evolutionary Argument Against Naturalism Jim

Darwinism Defeated? Phillip E. Johnson, Denis Oswald Lamoureux, Michael J. Behe, 1999 Warrant in Contemporary Epistemology Alvin Plantinga, 1996 Motivated by Plantinga's work, fourteen prominent philosophers have written new essays investigating Plantingian warrant and its contribution to contemporary epistemology. The resulting collection, representing a broad array of views, not only gives readers a critical perspective on Plantinga's landmark work but also provides in one volume a clear statement of the variety of approaches to the nature of warrant within contemporary epistemology and to the connections between epistemology and metaphysics. Philosophia Christi, 2006 The Argument from Reason and the Problem of Mental Causation Joseph A. Baltimore, 2007 Seven, 2006 Tayloring Reformed Epistemology Deane-Peter Baker, 2007 In recent philosophical discourse there has been a proliferation of work in the field of philosophy of religion and in particular at the intersection between epistemology and philosophy of religion. Much of that interest has centred on the emergence of what has come to be known as Reformed Epistemology. The central claim of Reformed epistemologists is that belief in God is properly basic. The purpose of the arguments offered by Reformed epistemologists is to oppose what Plantinga calls the de jure objection to theistic belief: the idea that it is somehow irrational, a dereliction of epistemic duty, or in some other sense epistemically unacceptable to believe in God. This objection is distinct from what Plantinga labels the de facto objection: the objection that whatever the rational status of belief in God, it is in fact a false belief. The primary goal of Reformed epistemology then is to defend Christian belief against the de jure objection, thereby showing that everything really depends on the truth of Christian belief. This book demonstrates the feasibility of combining the Reformed epistemologist's position with an argument for theism that the author draws from Charles Taylor's work. In it, he shows the value that would be added to the Reformed epistemologist's position by such a combination.

Smith,Amos Yong,2010 What might be described as a Pentecostal worldview has become a powerful cultural phenomenon but it is often at odds with modernity and globalization Science and the Spirit confronts questions of spirituality in the face of contemporary science The essays in this volume illustrate how Pentecostalism can usefully engage with technology and scientific discovery and consider what might be distinctive about a Pentecostal dialogue with the sciences The authors conclude that Pentecostals with their unique perspectives on spirituality can contribute new insights for a productive interaction between theology and science      The A Priori Joshua C.
