Natural Born Learners Unschooling And Autonomy In Education:

Natural Born Learners Beatrice Ekwa Ekoko, Carlo Ricci, 2014-01 Humans are natural learners Many of the authors in this collection of essays begin from a learner centered democratic perspective Complete list of authors include John Taylor Gatto Pat Farenga Satish Kumar Roland Meighan Susannah Sheffer Aaron Falbel Joseph Chilton Pearce Gordon Neufeld Naomi Aldort Wendy Priesnitz John L Vitale Jerry Mintz David Albert Mary Leue Grace Llewellyn Matt Hern Sandra Dodd Katharine Houk Monica Wells Kisura Brent Cameron Christine Brabant Seema Ahluwalia and Carl Boneshirt Dale Stephens Kate Cayley Kate Fridkis Eli Gerzon Candra Kennedy Jessica Claire Barker Peter Kowalke Idzie Desmarais Sean Ritchey Brenna McBroom Andrew Gilpin Divided into three sections the first part of the book deals with what constitutes a learner centered approach to education The second section addresses how some have implemented this approach In the last section learners who have lived learner centred learning share narratives about their experiences Holistic Pedagogy Carlo Ricci, Conrad P. Pritscher, 2015-03-03 This book illuminates what must always be at the heart of powerful schooling and authentic learning Its focus is on free learning with an emphasis on early East Asian thought as a vehicle through which learning may emerge The volume describes learning as helping the learner become more conscious more aware As such the authors explain how quality learning encompasses all learning that is chosen by the learner It is non judgmental and their idea is that if learning is done by choice then direct harm will be mitigated because quality willed learning is not just about the individual but includes others it is community focused as well as self determined In the first part of the volume the authors look specifically at how quality willed learning can inform the state and how it can protect the rights of children The second part looks at what quality willed learning can mean to leaders In the last part the authors look at what it can mean for teachers and finally what it can mean for the learners themselves The Parent's Handbook to Unschooling Yourself Esther Jones, 2025-08-21 To unschool your child you must first unschool yourself Many parents are aware that their child is unhappy at school but they assume that if their child were to leave school they would need to recreate school at home which can feel impossible However when the parent is willing to move beyond their own conditioning learning beyond school can offer exactly what their child needs to grow into the full potential of who they are Esther Jones gently encourages you to navigate this journey with curiosity and self compassion and provides you with a clear path forward in your next step in accompanying your child in their learning Extremely relevant for parents of a neurodivergent child this book packed with practical suggestions and exercises as well as stories from parents who have walked this path before including Esther's own lived experiences Consisting of two parts this book will first guide you through how children learn and then offers you a four step solution to unlocking your freedom from traditional schooling providing you with all the tools you need to understand what it means to unschool and help your child thrive in a home setting International Perspectives on Home Education P. Rothermel, 2015-03-23 This collection brings together the research of an eclectic mix of leading names in home based education studies worldwide It uses home education to explore contemporary education outside of school and place it into a global political and critical context and will be essential reading for home educators academics and policymakers alike

Practice,2018-09-21 Natural Born Learners Alex Beard,2018-04-12 Learning is the soul of our species From our first steps to our last words we are what we learn But for all its obvious importance learning has lost touch with human progress We live in an information age work in a knowledge economy yet our schools are relics of an industrial era Education insider Alex Beard takes us on a dazzling tour of the future of learning to show how we can and why we must do better Tackling everything from artificial intelligence to our growing understanding of the infant brain Natural Born Learners is a user s guide to transforming learning in the twenty first century and roadmap to accessing our better future selves Thinkers of the Twentieth Century Roland Turner,1987 Major thinkers in various intellectual disciplines are featured in Thinkers of the Twentieth Century Your patrons will find this guide a perfect start to their studies on 450 intellectuals from philosophy theology literary criticism aesthetics history social sciences politics and the sciences Entries are divided into two parts Part One includes a biography complete bibliography and reading list of the major books and articles written about the entrant Part Two consists of an extended 1 000 to 3 000 word essay on the entrant These essays explain in clear comprehensible language the work of the entrant and his her influence on the intellectual of the 20th century Weigh and See Carlo Ricci

Phd,2015-12-02 As an academic researcher and believer in social justice I am always looking for ways to make the world a better place and to find ways to help people in the world In part this book is another one of my humble attempts at doing that by sharing how I lost 35 pounds in 4 months by following five simple steps I do believe that regardless of our circumstances we can all benefit by living healthier lives Ultimately the focus of this book is how I can and by extension hopefully others best lose weight and become healthier Radical Unschooling - A Revolution Has Begun-Revised Edition Dayna

Martin,2011-02-01 Full of brilliant common sense Mrs Martin takes us behind the curtain to see in rich detail what alternative education really looks like when it bestows upon its subjects the freedom to choose Every parent who feels compelled to give their kids into the care of total strangers should read this book John Taylor Gatto Author Dumbing Us Down And Weapons of Mass InstructionProduct DescriptionRadical Unschooling is a progressive parenting philosophy which includes children learning at home It is different from homeschooling in that children are not forced to follow curriculum lessons and tests Radical Unschooling philosophy focuses on trust of a child s innate ability to learn without coercion and invites children to explore their passions The parent s role is to facilitate their interests and curiosity Radical Unschooling the book focuses also on the evolutionary aspect of parenting and human consciousness We are parenting and educating our children today to succeed in a joyful productive life by following their passions not someone else s agenda The main presentations are School is only one of many choices for our children in our technologically advanced world Forced learning isn t effective and causes more damage than formerly thought Respecting a child s choice and autonomy is an evolution of understanding and birth right of every human Learning and life are not separate Learning is pleasurable if it is not forced on us Separating life into subjects isn t necessary or natural Humans learn from all that they do and experience in life not just what our culture deems educational The main focus of parenting today is obedience and meeting the needs of the parent This has to change if we want our children to live in a peaceful world Moreover Radical Unschooling is just radical enough to herald a wake up call to our culture because of the truth the philosophy speaks

L'autonomie de l'apprenant : La perspective de l'enseignant George Camilleri,European Centre for Modern Languages,Council of Europe,1999-01-01 Developing Student Autonomy in Learning David Boud,2012-11-12 First Published in 1987 The assumption about the purpose of education to which the authors of this book subscribe is that it is to produce autonomous lifelong learners This book is about a very important goal of education and how it can be translated into practice It concerns ways in which teachers in higher education can enable students to become more autonomous in their learning that is assist students to learn more effectively without the constant presence or intervention of a teacher

Changing Our Minds Naomi Fisher,2021-02-04 Children are born full of curiosity eager to participate in the world They learn as they live with enthusiasm and joy Then we send them to school We stop them from playing and actively exploring their interests telling them it s more important to sit still and listen The result is that for many children their motivation to learn drops dramatically The joy of the early years is replaced with apathy and anxiety This is not inevitable We are socialised to believe that schooling is synonymous with education but it s only one approach Self directed education puts the child back in control of their learning This enables children including those diagnosed with special educational needs to flourish in their own time and on their own terms It enables us to put wellbeing at the centre of education Changing Our Minds brings together research theory and practice on learning It includes interviews with influential thinkers in the field of self directed education and examples from families alongside practical advice This essential guide will give you an understanding of why self directed education makes sense how it works and what to do to put it into action yourself

Autonomy and Independence in Language Learning Phil Benson,Peter Voller,2014-06-06 The topics of autonomy and independence play an increasingly important role in language education They raise issues such as learners responsibility for their own learning and their right to determine the direction of their own learning the skills which can be learned and applied in self directed learning and capacity for independent learning and the extents to which this can be suppressed by institutional education This volume offers new insights into the principles of autonomy and independence and the practices associated with them focusing on the area of EFL teaching The editors introduction provides the context and outlines the main issues involved in autonomy and independence Later chapters discuss the social and political implications of autonomy and independence and their effects on educational structures The consequences for the design of learner centred materials and methods is discussed together with an exploration of the practical ways of implementing autonomy and independence in language teaching and learning Each section of the book opens with an introduction to give structure to the development of ideas and themes with synopses to highlight salient features in the text and help build upon the material of previous chapters
