Inside Triathlon ,2006 Reshaping Retail Stefan Niemeier,Andrea Zocchi,Marco Catena,2013-06-06 The modern retail system has worked to dazzling effect From the 19th century store owners emerged from small beginnings to set in train an industry that has seen some operators become nationally even globally dominant Along the way they turned retailing into an art and then a science Now retailers in emerging markets appear to be repeating the story all over again except on a scale and at a speed beyond anything we have seen before Given all of this it can be hard for those who work in retailing to accept that the industry as we know it is living on borrowed time on the brink of transformation There is now an urgency with which conventional store based retailers must now act and the extent of the challenges this change represents in strategic organizational and above all technological terms Reshaping Retail sets out the driving causes current trends and consequences of a transformation in retail triggered by technology The changes go far beyond making items available for sale on the internet Starting by briefly setting the historical and business system contexts for retail and describe the role that technology has played in the creation of modern retail it then explains the underlying technological drivers behind the current revolution radical changes in the capacity of both hardware and software mobile telecommunications changes and the advances of the Internet Ultimately success will hinge on more than competence it will come down to a way of thinking Customer centricity will need to be valued not just by the store owner as in the past but also by all employees in the organization It will need to become embedded in their daily tasks The same applies to technology which must be at the center of the organization and recognized as such by everyone With a combination of extensive desk and field research interviews with leading retailers and technologists together with the real world experience of practitioners in this area Reshaping Retail will inspire and help store retailers to make the necessary transformation now to win in the new consumer driven world Best of the Internet Joe Kraynak,2004 A mini guide for finding the best information on the Internet fast and conveniently All sites are identified either as Kid Friendly or Adults Only plus there is a section in this edition on the wireless Web Brandweek ,2008 Understanding the Showrooming Phenomenon Christel Zaubitzer,2014-08-25 Master s Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 3 University of Münster Institute for Value Based Marketing course E Commerce language English abstract Showrooming is a phenomenon that describes a consumer s behavior of collecting information about a product or service in a physical store and purchasing it in an online store afterwards For retailers this behavior can be a major opportunity or thread To give insights into the phenomenon the thesis aims to determine a channel attributes that encourage or deject customers from attending showrooming and how customer characteristics distinguish showrooming customers from customers who did not purchase online. An empirical study collected data of 334 respondents via an online questionnaire: 149 showroomers and 185 respondents who did not showroom during a recent product purchase were compared regarding their perceived difference of channel attributes in the offline and the online channel. Further, both groups were compared in various customer characteristics. The results of the binary logistic regression reveal that among all observed channel attributes, the difference in price, service, purchase convenience, enjoyment, and risk perception between the online and offline shop have a significant impact on the likelihood of showrooming, whereas the assortment and after-sales services did not show significant impact. Among the observation of customer characteristics, a positive attitude towards free riding towards shopping and retailer loyalty were found to have a significant impact on the showrooming likelihood. The internet experience and the level of price consciousness showed no significant impact. With the results, the thesis supports physical retail stores to adjust the design of channel attributes in order to avoid showrooming behaviors of their customers. It also helps retailers to identify customers that are more likely to attend showrooming and target them specifically to prevent them from attending showrooming.
