Unsustainable World Peter N. Nemetz, 2022-02-27 Using a cross disciplinary science and economics based approach this book provides a sobering and comprehensive assessment of the multifaceted barriers to achieving sustainability at a global level Organized into three parts the book defines sustainability in part I and sets the context of the historical and current difficulties facing the world today In parts II and III it outlines the sustainability challenges faced in transportation manufacturing and agriculture and then in turn addresses the solutions conditional solutions and nonsolutions to these challenges These include electric and autonomous automobiles nuclear power renewable energy geoengineering and carbon capture and storage The author attempts to differentiate among those proposed solutions and discusses which are most promising and which are infeasible counterproductive and potentially a waste of time and money In each of the book's chapters the scientific evidence is presented in detail in keeping with the advice of the young Swedish climate activist Greta Thunberg to let the science speak for itself The author outlines why sustainability is unlikely to be achieved in several key areas of human endeavor and readers are challenged to weigh the scientific evidence for themselves Using an economic business based approach this book introduces students and general readers to the challenges of sustainability and the environmental difficulties facing humanity today U.S. News & World Report ,2007 The Wall Street Journal ,2009

Leadership and Temporality Armin Klesing, 2015-12-27 The objective of this book is to introduce a new theory of leadership Traditionally leadership is understood as the ability of charismatic personalities to create a following and to achieve significant results against great odds This study takes a different point of departure Author Armin Klesing asks two questions How can the response behavior to events be calibrated through the right persons and what does it take to actively create a new budget This leads to the elegant concept of temporality of leadership which describes the proper calibration of societies cultures states businesses armies and whatever else lends itself to be described as a time dependent chain process in fields of dynamic perturbations The author blends philosophy self development history current affairs and business building to describe the potential implications of this novel approach Industrial Engineering George Worthington, 1894
