Morning Routine Usa Promo:

Preventive Care for Elderly People David C. Kennie, 1993-10-28 This book examines the concepts of preventive care and health promotion specifically in the context of the elderly. It adopts a broad concept of health and defines a number of goals around this theme. Thereafter, it provides a succinct up to the minute critique of the worth, risks, and costs of preventive care and health promotional strategies for older people. A broad range of such strategies are considered, including cancer prevention, the prevention of non-cancer health problems, and strategies aimed at enhancing functional status and strengthening the social support network. Principles for tailoring these strategies to the varied needs and wishes of elderly people are outlined. Likewise, practical measures are discussed for integrating these preventive strategies into the existing health care system. In particular, the role of screening, case finding, and targeting strategies in primary care are reviewed in detail. The book concludes with a wider look at the cost implications of preventive care for the purchasers of health and health care services.

Includes contributions from students who participated in the essay contests. Illustrated.

The Ladies' Home Journal Edward William Bok, 1993-07 Health Promotion in Nursing Practice Nola J. Pender, Carolyn L. Murdaugh, Mary Ann Parsons, 2006 A handy reference for health promotion frameworks, strategies, and tools, this classic book focuses on national health promotion priorities identified in Healthy People 2010, with special emphasis on culturally and racially diverse populations. The new edition of this text will expand upon the vision of the two new co-authors incorporated in the last edition. It will continue to be theory-based but will include more application of health promotion. New information will be integrated on health promotion in the learning disabled and the use of herbal medicine as it relates to health promotion. There will be new case studies and reflective practice activities to apply student's knowledge. For nursing students as well as nurse practitioners, community health nurses, occupational health nurses, and school nurses.
