Multiple Choice Factoring:

Constructed response tests in the NELs:88 high school effectiveness study , Factor-analytic Reanalysis of Studies of Job Satisfaction and Morale Edward E. Cureton, Bryan B. Sargent, 1960 This is one of four papers reporting development of scales for measuring morale among Air Force personnel Data from published reports of six previously developed scales were reanalyzed and the results compared with those for the scales developed in this project Factor analyses show nearly all the scales with high loadings on the first centroid factor indicating a large general factor termed morale or general attitude toward the organization The one consistent separate factor was Supervision Variation of other factors from study to study is attributed in part to differences in attitude structuring among the various samples of workers but in larger part to differences in the content and organization of the particular scales used The report includes a discussion of special problems in factoring small matrices WADD Technical Note , 1961

Test Scoring David Thissen, Howard Wainer, 2001-05 Test Scoring provides a summary of traditional true score test theory and modern item response theory related to scoring tests as well as novel developments resulting from the integration of these approaches The background material introduced in the first four chapters builds a foundation for the new developments covered in later chapters These new methods offer alternative psychometric approaches to scoring complex assessments Each of the book's contributors draws from the classic literature of traditional test theory as well as psychometric developments of the past decade The emphasis is on large scale educational measurement but the topics and procedures may be applied broadly within many measurement contexts Numerous graphs and illustrative examples based on real tests and actual data are integrated throughout This multi authored volume shows the reader how to combine the coded outcomes on individual test items into a numerical summary about the examinee's performance This book is intended for researchers and students in education and other social sciences interested in educational assessment and policy the design and development of tests and the procedures for test administration and scoring Prerequisites include an introduction to educational and psychological measurement and basic statistics Knowledge of differential and integral calculus and matrix algebra is helpful but not required Coaching and Practice D.
