MX300

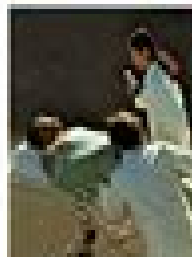

Applications

One of its proven, reliability and dependability, the MX300 series radio is the ideal choice for virtually any application where a compact portable is required. And Motorola's modular "building block" design makes it possible to upgrade performance and increase the system's capacity simply by adding plug-in modules to the circuitry.

ruggedness is built into every radio. Shock-resistant pads protect the circuitry and cushion the electronics within the case. Weather-sealed push-to-talk switches on the radio and remote speaker/microphones eliminate the danger of water damage and freezing under adverse conditions.

The high-performance MX300 series radio fits conveniently in a standard Motorola Carry Holder which attaches to the user's belt. For special needs, there is a wide selection of optional carrying accessories, including holster cases.

Audio accessories include remote speaker/microphones and a variety of headsets.
