North Carolina Linking Study Northwest Evaluation Association, 2014 Recently the Northwest Evaluation Association NWEA completed a study to connect the scale of the North Carolina State End of Grade EOG Testing Program used for North Carolina's mathematics and reading assessments with NWEA's Rausch Interval Unit RIT scale Information from the state assessments was used in a study to establish performance level scores on the RIT scale that would indicate a good chance of success on these tests To perform the analysis we linked together state test and NWEA test results for a sample of 18 730 North Carolina students who completed both exams in the spring of 2013 the term in which the EOG is administered For the spring season labeled current season an Equipercentile method was used to estimate the RIT score equivalent to each state performance level For fall labeled prior season we determined the percentage of the population within the selected study group that performed at each level on the state test and found the equivalent percentile ranges within the NWEA dataset to estimate the cut scores For example if 40% of the study group population in grade 3 mathematics performed below the proficient level on the state test we would find the RIT score that would be equivalent to the 40th percentile for the study population this would not be the same as the 40th percentile in the NWEA norms This RIT score would be the estimated point on the NWEA RIT scale that would be equivalent to the minimum score for proficiency on the state test Documentation about this method can be found on our website Table Sets 1 and 2 show the best estimate of the minimum RIT equivalent to each state performance level for same season spring and prior season fall RIT scores These tables can be used to identify students who may need additional help to perform well on these tests Table Sets 3 and 4 show the estimated probability of a student receiving a proficient score on the state assessment based on that student's RIT score These tables can be used to assist in identifying students who are not likely to pass these assessments thereby increasing the probability that intervention strategies will be planned and implemented These tables can also be useful for identifying target RIT score objectives likely to correspond to successful or proficient performance on the state test Table 5 shows the correlation coefficients between Measured Academic Performance MAP and the state test in each grade These statistics show the degree to which MAP and the state test are linearly related with values at or near 1.0 suggesting a perfect linear relationship and values near 0.0 indicating no linear relationship Table 6 shows the percentages of students at each grade and within each subject whose status on the state test is whether or not the student met standards was accurately predicted by their MAP performance and using the estimated cut scores within the current study This table can be used to understand the predictive validity of MAP with respect to the EOG North Carolina Test Prep End-Of-Grade Practice Tests Eog Mathematics Grade 5 E. standardized testing the standard error of measurement SEM is a measure of the factors other than the student s actual knowledge of the tested material that may affect the student s test score Such factors may include distractions in the testing environment fatigue hunger or even luck This means that a student s observed score may be below or above their true level of knowledge On North Carolina s End of Grade EOG and End of Course EOC tests the SEM is usually estimated at 3 4 scale points Thus the SEM is often factored into decisions on promotion retention and graduation students scoring within one SEM of Level III proficient are often advanced to the next level However the SEM is not factored into school accountability metrics and students scoring below Level III on an EOG or EOC test are not counted as proficient in the school s publicly reported
