

The background of the book cover is a photograph of two young children sitting on a wooden dock. The child on the left is wearing a pink baseball cap and a floral shirt, looking towards the water. The child on the right has blonde hair in a ponytail and is also looking towards the water. They are both holding papers, possibly coloring or drawing. The dock is made of wooden planks and is situated next to a calm body of water, likely a pond or a slow-moving stream. The water reflects the surrounding green trees and foliage. The overall scene is peaceful and natural, emphasizing the theme of the book.

HC 858 - Local Nature Partnerships Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environmental Audit Committee, 2015 Where LNPs have been successful they have demonstrated the benefits of local engagement harnessing enthusiasm in finding solutions to local priorities Where they have not been successful the solution is not to impose additional tasks but to re energise the unfocussed local commitment Many LNPs are starved of funding and resources meaning much of the good work in getting them up and running is being undone The whole country urban as well as rural need the natural environment protections that LNPs can provide Rather than leave under performing LNPs to wither away the next Government should urgently review LNPs and their funding and re energise the initiative Building Partnerships for Service-Learning Barbara Jacoby and Associates, 2003-06-17 It is clear that service learning has the potential to yield tremendous benefits to students communities and institutions of higher education Increased student learning has been well documented As communities gain new energy to meet their needs and greater capacity to capitalize on their assets service learning enables higher education to fulfill its civic responsibility When service learning lives up to its potential to lead colleges and universities to transform themselves into fully engaged citizens of their communities and the world its ability to bring about positive social change is limitless To be successful service learning must be grounded in a wider range of solid reciprocal democratic partnerships Building Partnerships for Service Learning assembles leading voices in the field to bring their expertise to bear on this crucial topic Faculty administrators student leaders and community and corporate leaders will find this volume filled with vital information exemplary models and practical tools needed to make service learning succeed Comprehensive in scope Building Partnerships for Service Learning includes Fundamentals and frameworks for developing sustainable partnerships Assessment as a partnership building process The complex dynamics of collaboration between academic affairs and student affairs Partnering with students to enhance service learning How to create campuswide infrastructure for service learning Profiles and case studies of outstanding partnerships with neighborhoods community agencies and K 12 schools Partnerships for collaborative action research Exploring the challenges and benefits of corporate and international partnerships The dynamic relationship of service learning and the civic renewal of higher education Building Partnerships for Service Learning is the essential guide to taking service learning and partnerships to the next level A Summary of the Law of Partnership Stanley Matthews, 1878 A Treatise on the Law of Partnership and Joint-Stock Companies, According to the Law of Scotland, Etc Francis William CLARK (Advocate.), 1866

Partnering with Nature Catriona MacGregor, 2010-04-13 Partnering with Nature is a simple book with a powerful message our connections to the natural environment and ultimately to ourselves are crucial in today's fragmented world As each successive generation moves farther away from nature the growing disconnect is expressed through physical as well as mental stress from depression and fatigue in adults to attention disorders and obesity in children The way we relate to nature helps define our place within it and by awakening this natural yet dormant connection to the environment around us we can move beyond solitary stewardship and into partnership In Partnering with Nature Catriona MacGregor weaves together scientific and historical wisdom spiritual insights and inspiring stories that illuminate the energies that link humans animals and the natural world Through observation and conscious practice we can open up to the power of nature to transform our lives uplift our spirits and even to direct our bodies to a healthier potential For everyone who has a sense of something missing who wishes to make a difference in their world who yearns to reclaim their sense of wonder and awe or who struggles with their health or emotional balance nature speaks to all who will listen Annual Report of the Regents of the University, to the Legislature of the State of New-York University of the State of New York, University of the State of New York.
