Video Game Art Reader Tiffany Funk, 2022-07-11 This volume of VGAR critically analyzes video game art as a means of survival Though survival strategy exists as a defined gaming genre all video games as unique participatory artworks model both individual and collaborative means of survival through play Video games offer opportunities to navigate both historical and fictional conflicts traverse landscapes devastated by climate change or nuclear holocaust and manage the limited resources of individuals or even whole civilizations on earth and beyond They offer players a dizzying array of dystopian scenarios in which to build and invent cooperate with others through other players NPCs or AI to survive another day Contributors show how video games focus attention hone visuospatial skills and shape cognitive control and physical reflexes and thus have the power to participate in the larger context of radical activist artworks that challenge destructive hegemonic structures as methods of human conditioning coping and creating

Emerging Genres Joshua Call, Betsy Brey, Gerald A. Voorhees, Matthew Wysocki, 2026-01-08 This collection explores digital games through the lens of genre analysis to establish where games are currently and establish new ground in Game Studies for the future

The Film of the Islamic State Yorck Beese, 2024-05-27 The film of the so called Islamic State is part of the still relatively opaque history of radical Sunni Islamist video propaganda a field in which it is simultaneously its strongest exponent Through its imports of aesthetics in the age of digitalization and the concurrent de professionalization of film this violent propaganda film has interestingly drawn attention for its seeming likeness to Hollywood film an odd comparison that the Islamic State itself opposes through its own filmic antagonisms to commercial cinema In an intermittent attempt at attacking cinematic illusionism it has made increasing use of cinematic devices in order to communicate its violent and anti humanist ideology and has thereby entered a state of filmic self contradiction This book analyzes and uncovers the mechanisms and dynamics of ideological communication in the Islamic State s videos through a combined historical and neoformalist approach making them predictable for future researchers
