

Native Science

The background of the book cover is a vibrant, stylized illustration. It depicts two figures, possibly Native Americans, standing on a dark, rocky ground. They are holding up a long, glowing, orange-red staff or pole that extends diagonally across the frame. The staff has a bright, glowing point at its tip. The background is a deep blue night sky filled with stars and a large, bright, glowing blue and white nebula or star cluster. The overall mood is one of wonder and connection to nature.

Queer and Deleuzian Temporalities Rachel Loewen Walker,2023-06-29 Rachel Loewen Walker s original study of Deleuze s theory of temporality critically expands our understanding of non linear time through engagement with queer theory and new feminist materialisms Walker draws on the notion of non linear time in Deleuze s work to advance a conception of the living present as a critical juncture through which new meanings and activism in the fields of feminism environment and queerness may be realised Using literary texts by Jeanette Winterson and philosophical texts by Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray Walker reflects on monomythic stories about gender sexuality and identity in the context of rapid climate change and posthumanist politics to tread new ground for Deleuzian studies of time Speaking to and from feminist queer environmental trans and crip political movements Walker uses Deleuze to argue for a lived present which is both mutable and embodied Such characteristics are presented as essential components in the construction of meaning that is not bound by a static present past or future
