Parents as Partners in Education Eugenia Hepworth Berger, Mari Riojas-Cortez, 2012. Parents as Partners in Education Eighth Edition is uniquely the most comprehensive book on the market covering the history of parenting and parent school collaboration, current issues and population trends affecting American schools and communities, diverse family structures and techniques for establishing a connection with parents and encouraging involvement with their child's learning. Based on the notion of funds of knowledge, the knowledge that children acquire from their families, this best-selling textbook helps the reader differentiate between culture and diversity as they relate to culturally and linguistically diverse families. Rather than following a tourist approach to culture, this new edition focuses on culturally relevant pedagogy to work with children and their families, particularly those who are English language learners and immigrant children. A special focus on culturally and linguistically diverse children with special needs is a remarkable aspect of the book.

How to Choose a Life Partner Bimbo Odukoya, 2005-10. No More Violence: All You Need To Do Is Speak Up Dr. Sanya Khan, 2022-11-04. Domestic violence against women is a prevalent issue. However, determining its full extent is difficult. It could be far higher than stated because many cases of domestic violence against women are not reported. During the COVID-19 lockdown, our country saw a significant surge in incidences of domestic violence. A woman frequently believes that the abuse she experiences is her fault and that she has made a mistake. This conclusion is incorrect; abuse is the fault of the abuser, not the victim. Estimates of violence in our country are higher than official records. Women may fail to report family violence for a variety of reasons. Because they don't know how to deal with domestic abuse or whom to approach and what are the laws and schemes for their empowerment. In contrast to this point of view, the current book, which is based on research in Doda, contrasts this point of view by shedding light on the types, signs and causes of domestic violence as well as its effects on women's mental health. Additionally, it brought to light the violence committed by parents against their daughters and the various women-focused schemes run by the Ministry of Women and Child Development that assist women in coping with domestic violence and gaining independence so that they are not dependent on anyone.

Includes a list of UK addresses. Material is based on a research project conducted between 1993 and 1996. The editors are affiliated with the University of Warwick.
