oculoglandular tularemia The clinical presentation of human tularemia depends on route of the infection the causative Francisella strain and the immune response of the host A live attenuated vaccine LVS has been available for more than 50 years however unlikely to become licensed in the future due to a lack of understanding of the genetic basis for its attenuation Due to the ease of its dissemination its multiple routes of infection its low dose of infection severe morbidity and high rate of mortality F tularensis subsp tularensis has been classified as a category A bioterrorism agent by the CDC Many virulence factors of F tularensis have been discovered and investigated but more in depth host pathogen interaction analyses are needed to define mechanisms of pathogenicity and virulence of this unique pathogen MCSE Windows NT?
