Shopping Jenny Shaw,2013-04-24 We spend more time shopping than doing anything else after sleep and work So why is it not taken more seriously The answer we take shopping for granted Indeed culture can only work by being taken for granted This paradox that what is most familiar like shopping is also the hardest to see analytically provides the starting point for this compelling examination of the many dimensions of the shopping experience Shopping enables readers to realize the significance of their shopping memories and milestones how the rhythm of the day or week revolves as much around shop opening hours as working hours or bus times and why Mayor Giuliani was right after 9 11 to tell Americans to keep on shopping From an exciting cultural perspective Jenny Shaw explores how shopping is viewed the history behind its fall from grace its part in the common culture its role in helping us craft new identities hold on to old ones adjust to change and generally hold us together both as individuals and communities Students of sociology anthropology social psychology media and business studies interested in culture and the everyday world will be gripped by this engaging and accessible guide to the meaning behind what the ordinary shopper actually does and why shopping remains so popular despite social and cultural changes

You Haven't Asked About My Wedding Or What I Wore Jana Harris,2014-10-15 During more than thirty years of reading reminiscences diaries and letters of forgotten North American pioneer women poet Jana Harris noticed one narrative recurring time and again the most powerful memory these women had was often either their courtship and wedding or the courtship and wedding of a family member While these young women who most likely hauled water in a wooden bucket from creek to house and then wore her knees raw scrubbing splintery floors if she was lucky enough to live in a home that had a floor dreamed of a fine wedding it was sometimes with a man they hardly knew Harris captures the hope anxiety anger and despair of these women through a variety of voices and poetic strategies Based on interviews of 19th century frontier women conducted during the 1920 s and 30 s the voices and images of these powerful women speak Nowhere on these parchment leaves do I find myself my likeness my name not a whisper Cynthia not one breath of me Sculpted out of years of research and accompanied by archival photographs these poems imagine the memoirs of forgotten frontier women and children
