Readings in Physiological Psychology: Learning and memory Charles G. Gross, Harris Philip Zeigler, 1969. Animals and men are affected by their experiences. Experiences therefore must produce changes within the organism presumably in its nervous system. The studies in this volume are concerned with the nature of these changes. The selections in Part I deal with the problem of when the changes occur and when they become relatively permanent. The papers in Part II ask what is the nature of the changes. The third set of selections deals with the problem of where the changes occur. The papers in Part IV illustrate several electrophysiological approaches to learning and memory.
