literature of the Balkan region without exception. The narratives that are based on the legend of the impalement can roughly be known as "The Pricking of Szentendre", in Romania as "Mătăs Flămădu". Numerous versions of the ballad are known, all with its dispersion and origin. Critics have tried to outdo one another in unceasing over-excitement that the version published in which 18th century Balkan writers use the legend that seems the most intriguing. Their fascination with the impalement of which all of the known Balkan versions of the legend reader can be summarized as follows: soldiers gather around the tank and offering in love sacrifice to the sainted requires a couple of baby to be killed for the master historical attention in its nation, as

Mythistory And Narratives Of The Nation In The Balkans:

Mythistory and Narratives of the Nation in the Balkans Tatjana Aleksić, 2007 The idea of this collection is to bring to the forefront various ways in which the literary poetics of Balkan nations interrelates with their national poetics and present recent and innovative explorations of literature and film which actively engage with national poetics a kind of mythopoiesis of the modern Balkans In proposing an approach to the national question that lies distinctly in the liminal space best designated as mythistory the collection brings together two dominant approaches to national discourse The first tends to interpret the nation as a myth an artificial creation an invention even a oedream The other is a mapping of the nation that considers its historically progressive role It is their multifaceted dynamics that brings to the foreground a unique national mythopoetics Mythistory is explored through its multifold engagement with the text as a major element in the universal nationalist discourse as a narrative strategy extensively utilized in Balkan literary and film narratives and as a particular technique in approaching the text Through the insights gained from literary and critical theory historical analysis and cultural anthropology this collection seeks to reveal the application of mythistorical discourse upon narratives responding to nation forming historical events The texts in this collection articulate very distinct agendas of gender identity culture philosophy and aesthetics all interwoven with national problematic but steer away from the definition by which mythistory is relegated to the transparently propagandist

Literature in Exile of East and Central Europe Agnieszka Gutthy, 2009 Literature in Exile of East and Central Europe is a collection of articles discussing authors whose homelands range from the former Soviet Union to the former Yugoslavia For the purposes of this book East and Central Europe comprise Russia Poland Germany Czech Republic Romania and former Yugoslavia These writers were exiled as a result of unbearable political climates be it nations of the Communist block including former Yugoslavia torn by its civil wars or in the case of Poland its partitioning by neighboring powers in the nineteenth century No other book has collected such a variety of discussions from this geopolitical region featuring authors who chose exile over the extinguishment of their individuality Organized by theme and geography this book will be of interest to a wide group of readers from the topic of exile to research in Slavic Czech Polish Russian and post Yugoslav Romanian German and comparative literature Literature in Exile of East and Central Europe is a valuable supplement to courses in Eastern and Central European history as well as a primary text for courses in East and Central European literature

Earthly Delights, 2018-06-05 Earthly Delights brings together a number of substantial and original scholarly studies by international scholars currently working on the history of food in the Ottoman Empire and East Central Europe It offers new empirical research as well as surveys of the state of scholarship in this discipline with special emphasis on influences continuities and discontinuities in the culinary cultures of the Ottoman Porte the Balkans and East Central Europe between the 17th and 19th centuries Some contributions address economic aspects of food provision the development and trans national circulation of individual dishes and the role of merchants diplomats and travellers in the transmission of culinary trends Others examine the role of food in the construction of national and regional identities in contact zones where local traditions merged or clashed with imperial Ottoman Habsburg and West European influences

The Balkan Prospect V. Calotychos, 2013-01-21 Following the fall of the Soviet Union in 1989 the borders hitherto separating Greek culture and society from its contiguous Balkan polities came down and Greeks had to reorient themselves toward their immediate neighbors and redefine their place within Europe and the new more fluid global order Projecting the political foresight and mustering the modernization policies to succeed in such an undertaking turned out to be no small feat especially as the regional conflicts that had lain dormant during the Cold War were revived Synthesizing the cultural political and historical into a sophisticated interdisciplinary analysis this innovative study untangles the prolonged historical moment in which Greece and Europe were effectively held hostage to events in the Balkans just at the time when both hoped to serve as the region's welcoming hosts

Narrating the Nation Milana M. Bodiroga, 2013 This thesis examines the dialogue between two texts meant to contribute to the mythistory Aleksic 2007 and what I term the storied context of the second Yugoslav experiment 1945 1995 From within the lens of my own diasporic context I juxtapose Ivo Andric's The bridge on the Drina 1945 1959 published at the nation's outset against Emir Kusturica's Underground 1995 produced at Yugoslavia's failing end I analyze the thematic connections and ideological constraints to the conversation between these two texts by establishing the parameters of both

Kusturica's successful and unsuccessful attempts to engage Andric's Drina 1945 1959 A template for the continued overlaying of discrepant voices Said 1993 is revealed for further examination both backward into the mythhistories of the Southwest Slavs of the Balkans and forward into the construction of storied contexts in the former Yugoslav states Finally a discussion of the influence of the West's own imaginary of the former Yugoslavia and its influence on contextualizing stories of the same is also examined
