

Narrative interview

- Narrative interview is one of the least structured versions of interviewing; is not based on a list of fixed questions
- The question-answer pair does not constitute a good interview (Official interrogation?)
- Primary objective: to encourage people to tell their stories based on their own experiences and meaning-making
- Interview questions always pre-frame and pre-conceptualize the answers ->
- Good interviews have fewer questions and fewer turn-takings - bad interviews contain lot of (detailed) questions and answers

Handbook of Longitudinal Research Methods in Organisation and Business Studies Melanie E. Hassett, Eriikka Paavilainen-Mäntymäki, 2013-01-01 This Handbook is a very timely contribution to organization and business studies Most calls for longitudinal research are made in sections of published work that deal with limitations of the study or suggestions for further research This book places longitudinal research methods at center stage With its practical hands on approach it guides us how to design a longitudinal study in and around organizations whether qualitative or quantitative and how to implement it I warmly recommend this Handbook to ambitious senior and junior researchers It makes the commonly presented excuses for not undertaking longitudinal research completely redundant Rebecca Piekari Aalto University School of Business in Helsinki Finland This is a very timely book that fills an important gap in the field of research methods So far very little attention has been paid to longitudinal research methods while the usefulness of this type of research has often been discussed in many papers and conferences Insights provided by scholars who have been doing this type of research provide useful guidelines for anyone interested in research methods from senior scholars to young researchers and PhD candidates This volume will serve as an excellent complement to the existing range of books on research methods Pervez Ghauri Kings College London UK This innovative Handbook demonstrates that there is no single best approach to conducting longitudinal studies At their best longitudinal research designs yield rich contextualised multilevel and deep understanding of the studied phenomenon The lack of resources in terms of time funding and people can pose a serious challenge to conducting longitudinal research This book tackles many of these challenges and discusses the role of longitudinal research programmes in overcoming such obstacles This book shows how longitudinal research methods enable the understanding of dynamics mechanisms causalities and interrelationships of organizational and business concepts in context and in relation to time It discusses the richness and versatility of longitudinal research and offers to students and experienced scholars alike numerous viewpoints reflections and personal accounts about conducting longitudinal research from planning and fieldwork to reporting and managing of research projects

Interviews as Activated Storytelling Amir B. Marvasti, Jaber F. Gubrium, 2025-05-30 Challenging the sanitized view of participants in standardized surveys Interviews as Activated Storytelling contends that interviewing is a meaning making process producing useful but context sensitive knowledge Through a series of case studies the book illustrates that participants are not simply there for asking and answering but inquire and respond in terms of attendant interests and social worlds Interview interaction and interpretation must take these into account against standardization In two parts chapters explore how conditions of the interview process contexts and conceptions of interview participants subjectivities narratively inform and shape activate interviewing and its results Together with the previously published book Crafting Ethnographic Fieldwork Sites Selves and Social Worlds insights into the full range of procedural issues in qualitative research are offered Entrepreneurial Strategies of Professional Service Firms Andreas B. Günther, 2019-02-19 Over the past years knowledge intensive industries have gained significant importance as economic factor giving rise to professional service firms PSFs such as law firms accounting firms or consultancies Following this development the research interest especially in the strategies pursued by PSFs has grown substantially However past research focused mainly on strategies of established mature PSFs leaving academics as well as potential entrepreneurs without guidance on what newly founded entrepreneurial PSFs should pay attention to in order to ensure lasting competitive advantages Based on an explorative grounded theory analysis of two outstanding commercial law firm spin offs in Germany this work advances the research in this field In addition to a detailed case study report it offers a comprehensive theoretical framework and argues that PSFs have to employ a set of seven specific entrepreneurial strategies including for example servicedelivery people development and client acquisition strategies in order to successfully manage the entrepreneurial phase In providing examples for the growing PSF industry the findings on commercial law firm spin offs also inform entrepreneurship research in other professions Conducting Lightly
