Narrative in English Conversation Christoph Rühlemann,2013 Based on new data and cutting edge technologies this study investigates how narrators and recipients cooperate when telling stories Narrative in English Conversation Christoph Rühlemann,2013 Based on new data and cutting edge technologies this study investigates how narrators and recipients cooperate when telling stories Small Stories Research Alex Georgakopoulou,Korina Giaxoglou,Sylvie Patron,2023-07-31 This collection showcases the diversity and disciplinary breadth of small stories research highlighting the growing critical mass of scholarship on small stories and its reach beyond discourse and sociolinguistic perspectives The volume both takes stock of and seeks to advance the development of small stories research by Alexandra Georgakopoulou and Michael Bamberg as a counterpoint to conventional models in narrative studies one which has accounted for atypical yet salient activities in everyday life such as fragmentation and open endedness anchoring onto the present and co constructive dimensions in stories and identities With data from different languages and contexts emphasis is placed on the analytical aspects of the paradigm toward producing models for the analysis of structures textual and interactional choices and genres of small stories Chapters on the role and commodification of small stories in digital environments reflect on the paradigm's recent extension to the analysis of social media communication This book will appeal to scholars interested in narrative inquiry and narrative analysis in such fields as sociolinguistics literary studies communication studies and biographical studies

Conversational Storytelling Among Japanese Women Mariko Karatsu,2012 This book presents research findings on the overall process of storytelling as a social event in Japanese everyday conversations focusing on the relationship between a story and surrounding talks the social and cultural aspects of the participants and the tellability of conversational stories Focusing on the participants verbal and nonverbal behavior and their use of linguistic devices the chapters describe how the participants display their orientation to the a embeddedness of the story in the conversation b their views of past events c their knowledge about the story content and elements and d their social circumstances and how these four elements are relevant for a story becoming worth telling and sharing The book furthers the sociolinguistic analysis of conversational storytelling by describing how the participants concerns about social circumstances as members of a particular community specifically their role relationships and interpersonal relationships with others influence the shape of their storytelling

Storytelling Practices in Home and Educational Contexts Anna Filipi,Binh Thanh Ta,Maryanne Theobald,2022-06-30 This book brings together researchers from across the globe to share their work on the micro analyses of storytelling By doing so the book helps to deepen the understanding of and track storytelling practices cross culturally and longitudinally in the home at school and in higher education Through the unique focus on education and learning this book provides a lens with which to identify how children's and adolescents language development and sense of self in storytelling are supported in various contexts the home classroom playground or in the higher education context It explores the work identity and practices of friends teachers and lecturers in teaching learning reflection and supervision Importantly in identifying these practices the book presents opportunities to assist parents and teachers to inform pedagogy in teacher education and to support effective doctoral supervision The focus on storytelling in homes education and for learning and the practical applications of the findings contribute to the ongoing research in both education and conversation analysis Chapter 10 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 1997 Narrative Factuality Monika Fludernik, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2019-12-16 The study of narrative the object of the rapidly growing discipline of narratology has been traditionally concerned with the fictional narratives of literature such as novels or short stories But narrative is a transdisciplinary and transmedial concept whose manifestations encompass both the fictional and the factual In this volume which provides a companion piece to Tobias Klauk and Tilmann Kappes Fiktionalist Ein interdisziplinäres Handbuch the use of narrative to convey true and reliable information is systematically explored across media cultures and disciplines as well as in its narratological stylistic philosophical and rhetorical dimensions At a time when the notion of truth has come under attack it is imperative to reaffirm the commitment to facts of certain types of narrative and to examine critically the foundations of this commitment But because it takes a background for a figure to emerge clearly this book will also explore nonfactual types of narratives thereby providing insights into the nature of narrative fiction that could not be reached from the narrowly literary perspective of early narratology Conversational Narrative Neal R. Norrick, 2000-09-15 This book investigates the forms and functions of storytelling in everyday conversation It develops a rhetoric of everyday storytelling through an integrated approach to both the internal structure and the contextual integration of narrative passages It aims at a more complete picture of oral narrative through analysis of a wider range of natural data including personal anecdotes told for humor put down stories told for self aggrandizement family stories retold to ratify membership and so on as well as marginal stories and narrative like passages to delineate the boundaries of conversational storytelling and to test the analytical techniques proposed Using transcriptions of stories from everyday talk Norrick explores disfluencies formulaicity and repetition as teller strategies and listener cues alongside global phenomena such as retelling and narrative macrostructures He also extends his analysis to narrative jokes from conversation and to narrative passages in drama namely Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet and Beckett's Endgame Handbook of Discourse Analysis: Discourse and dialogue Teun A. van Dijk, 1985 Storytelling in Multilingual Interaction Jean Wong, Hansun Zhang, Waring, 2021-03-01 Integral to the tapestry of social interaction storytelling is the focus of interest for scholars from a diverse range of academic disciplines This volume combines the study of conversation analysis CA with storytelling in multilingual contexts to examine how multilingual speakers converse and manage various aspects of storytelling and how they accomplish a wide range of actions through storytelling in classroom and everyday settings An original book length endeavor devoted exclusively to storytelling in multilingual contexts this book contributes to broadening the scope of the foundational conversation analytic literature on storytelling and to further specifying the nature of second language L2 interactional competence. Designed for pre-service and in-service second or foreign language teachers, students of applied linguistics as well as scholars interested in storytelling, this volume explores the cross-linguistic nature of generic interactional practices. Sheds light on the nature of translanguaging and learner language and provides insights into teacher practices on managing classroom storytelling.

Second Language Instruction/acquisition Abstracts, 1997 Narrative Inquiry, 2003 Language and Language Behavior Abstracts, 1980 Telling Stories Deborah Schiffrin, Anna De Fina, Anastasia Nylund, 2010-03-09. Narratives are fundamental to our lives: we dream, plan, complain, endorse, entertain, teach, learn, and reminisce through telling stories. They provide hopes, enhance or mitigate disappointments, challenge or support moral order, and test out theories of the world at both personal and communal levels. It is because of this deep embedding of narrative in everyday life that its study has become a wide research field, including disciplines as diverse as linguistics, literary theory, folklore, clinical psychology, cognitive and developmental psychology, anthropology, sociology, and history. In Telling Stories, leading scholars illustrate how narratives build bridges among language, identity, interaction, society, and culture, and they investigate various settings such as therapeutic and medical encounters, educational environments, politics, media, marketing, and public relations. They analyze a variety of topics from the narrative construction of self and identity to the telling of stories in different media and the roles that small and big life stories play in everyday social interactions and institutions. These new reflections on the theory and analysis of narrative offer the latest tools to researchers in the fields of discourse analysis and sociolinguistics.
