Liu, Mark Goh, 2015-10-16 This book reveals the secrets of Yamato Transport's success in maintaining and extending its leadership in Japan's domestic parcel delivery market. It presents six cases that illustrate how Yamato's flagship service TA Q BIN has evolved since the 1970s to the benefit of consumers, particularly urban dwellers, and how TA Q BIN has become an integral part of Japanese daily life. Each of the six unique cases serves as an independent teaching case for undergraduate and graduate students, describing the particular service design, operations management, innovation, supplier management, and social responsibility within the context of an Asian last mile logistics service provider. The book also includes insightful presentations of the challenges facing supply chain and logistics service providers in Asia and their innovative responses to these challenges using real world cases. Besides featuring interviews with Yamato's key stakeholders and their strategic clients, Japan-based and other Asia-Pacific Yamato operational centers make up the field method included in this book, while secondary data is drawn from trade and academic domains. Some of the cases are written in a didactic fashion with suitable stopping points for students to pause and deliberate over the managerial issues confronting the decisions that Yamato makes during the course of its business and operational strategies. The results are particularly useful to readers interested in how operations and logistics decision making are practiced in a homogeneous Asian context and in an urban environment. This book is essential reading for undergraduate and MBA students as well as practitioners in industry. Forest and Stream

, 1909 Retail Recovery Mark Pilkington, 2021 A fascinating insight into how retailers can recover and thrive in retailing's new normal. The retail industry, with which we have all grown up, has been devastated by the twin effects of the internet and the coronavirus lockdown. Huge numbers of prestigious brands have gone under or are a shadow of their former selves. The world economy has gone into deep recession with reduced employment and incomes across broad swathes of society. Many discretionary products have simply become too expensive for ordinary people to buy on a regular basis. High streets and shopping malls lie half empty, causing a vacuum at the core of our societies. There is an urgent need to regenerate our local shopping centres in order to create new hope in depressed areas. So how can retailers and brands respond to this crisis? Fortunately, new shoots of recovery are emerging from the wreckage of the old order: new brands, new ways of providing value, and new and innovative methods of creating excitement to draw in consumers, all of which have the potential to kick start the retail economy. Technology is re-shaping almost every aspect of the supply chain and is lowering barriers to entry to new and innovative start-ups, which are re-making sector after sector. In addition, some incumbent brands and retailers are experimenting with novel ways of doing things, from turning mere shopping into an immersive theatre experience to creative ways to measure and retain loyalty. This book offers a comprehensive analysis of these new forces which are changing the way in which we buy products and experience brands. It includes in-depth interviews with some of the most innovative players, from John Lewis in the UK to Nike and Patagonia in the US, in the hope of drawing out key learning points for the rest of the industry across the globe. It also provides essential guidelines for governments as they strive to rebuild society in the
