Labor Day

Labor Day is a day of celebration and community for the hard workers in September. Labor Day is a Federal Holiday in the United States.

What is Labor Day About?

The funny thing about Labor Day is that it is the one day off the year we don't expect to be spent in the office or the work by not doing anything. But it is important that people have jobs, and when we work, on Labor Day, we honor the value of labor by putting it out of our thoughts for an entire long weekend.

While it can be truly one of the most relaxing days of the year, it is a period of unemployment, over-exposure, work, anxiety like the greatest and most long-term opportunity off all work is the chance to take a break from work. Whether it is taking a vacation or staying at home, nothing is more compelling as people are looking at days off work or taking a hospital bed. Our daily routine work day is usually forced and severe.

Labor Day is the celebration of you, the American worker! It is your hard work, the foundation for the American worker, the driving engine behind the most productive economy in the world, and the American worker is the most influential in one of the highest standard-of-living in the world. All of this comes out of the labor of the workers and their hard work.

Of course, Labor Day not only celebrated the American workers but also great and well-known quality of life. Back in the late 1800s, the Labor movement was created to add more power of the various problems of the day including long working hours and back off time off.

What Does it Mean?

1. Labor Day is celebrated annually on September 1st. (T)
2. We don't work on Labor Day. (F)
3. There are many things considered when Labor Day is celebrated. (T)
4. We like work without the doing it. (F)
5. It doesn't cost for what we do at work, we do it for money to support our needs. (F)
6. Labor Day honors the employee. (F)
7. American workers are important for one of the highest standard-of-living in the world. (T)
8. The Labor movement was created because of poor working conditions like back-off jobs. (T)

Answer the questions:

1. When they say "work is an activity" or "we don't work when we're not doing it", what does that mean?

2. What do we get by working?

3. According to this text, what is important for American success full economy?

4. What are the following American workers, what is it about?

5. When and why was the Labor movement created?

6. What is the importance for not working on Labor Day?

7. Is Labor Day celebrated in your country?

8. What do you do when there's no work long weekend?

9. Do you think that the workers' rights are respected in your country? Explain.
