Domestic United States Military Facilities of the First World War 1917-1919 Robert Swanson, 2000-02 This book attempts to list every place in the United States and Territories where soldiers sailors or marines might have been stationed during the First World War The reason for such a list is to provide source locations and checklists for postal history letters and cards from these military men The book lists all fixed land based United States military camps and facilities that operated during the War period There has long been a need for such a listing as it was not known where military mail could have originated within the US

Monuments to the Lost Cause Cynthia J. Mills, Pamela Hemenway Simpson, 2003 This richly illustrated collection of fourteen essays examines the ways in which Confederate memorials from Monument Avenue to Stone Mountain and the public rituals surrounding them testify to the tenets of the Lost Cause a romanticized narrative of the war Several essays highlight the creative leading role played by women's groups in memorialization while others explore the alternative ways in which people outside white southern culture wrote their very different histories on the southern landscape The authors who include Richard Guy Wilson Catherine W Bishir W Fitzhugh Brundage and William M S Ramussen trace the origins objectives and changing consequences of Confederate monuments over time and the dynamics of individuals and organizations that sponsored them Thus these essays extend the growing literature on the rhetoric of the Lost Cause by shifting the focus to the realm of the visual They are especially relevant in the present day when Confederate symbols and monuments continue to play a central role in a public and often emotionally charged debate about how the South's past should be remembered The editors Art Historian Cynthia Mills a specialist in nineteenth century public sculpture is executive editor of American Art the scholarly journal of the Smithsonian American Art Museum Pamela H Simpson is the Ernest Williams II Professor of Art History at Washington and Lee University She is the coauthor of The Architecture of Historic Lexington

Postcards Lydia Pyne, 2021-10-13 A global exploration of postcards as artifacts at the intersection of history science technology art and culture Postcards are usually associated with banal holiday pleasantries but they are made possible by sophisticated industries and institutions from printers to postal services When they were invented postcards established what is now taken for granted in modern times the ability to send and receive messages around the world easily and inexpensively Fundamentally they are about creating personal connections links between people places and beliefs Lydia

Pyne examines postcards on a global scale to understand them as artifacts that are at the intersection of history science technology art and culture In doing so she shows how postcards were the first global social network and also here in the twenty first century how postcards are not yet extinct Directory of Historical Organizations in the United States and Canada American Association for State and Local History,2002 This multi functional reference is a useful tool to find information about history related organizations and programs and to contact those working in history across the country

Frederick County Revisited ,2007 Established in 1748 Frederick County s fascinating heritage was shaped by agricultural commercial and industrial prosperity the opening of routes west by wagon water and rail Civil War battles and intrigue and the nurturing of education and religion This second volume includes historic images of a raging flood in Point of Rocks and a devastating Frederick barn fire It shows the thumbprints of pivotal national events in photographs like those of a German POW camp in Frederick It glimpses into more personal moments in time as well two young friends clowning around on a rooftop in 1930 students studying in their 19th century classroom and the Colored Order of the Knights of Pythias gathering for a convention in 1925 Also featured are personalities like U S senator Charles Mac Mathias musician Bion Firestone and Uncle Billy Hilton the pretzel man along with sports teams students congregations organizations and businesses that make up who we are and what we have become as a community The Western Pennsylvania Historical Magazine Charles William Dahlinger,1982 Windmills of New England Daniel Lombardo,2003 With an almost quixotic dedication to his subject Dan Lombardo has scoured countrysides seashores and archives in a quest to comprehend the fascinating history and exciting future of the windmills of New England Combining a fun approach with scholarly rigor he examines the many ways windmills revolutionized the lives of our ancestors just as modern wind power is now poised to change local and perhaps even world politics Indeed with wind farms now producing electricity at prices that are highly competitive with all other sources and generating electrical controversies in the local and national news this book could not be any more timely Lombardo takes his readers along with him on a journey to the antique remains of wooden windmills to meet the people who care for and treasure them He introduces us to young apprentices learning to grind corn artists using windmills as studios and even an engineer who single handedly operates a major modern electric wind farm Lombardo explores the powerful poetic and literary uses of windmills their imagery in film their impact on language and their place in popular culture such as in residential and commercial architecture as lawn ornaments and as perennial obstacles on mini golf courses Along the way he has collected more than 160 photographs vintage postcards and other renderings This invaluable volume is complete with online and other resources a useful index and a series of windmill tours to assist readers with their own windmill adventures Philatelic Literature Review ,1983 A History of the County of Gloucester J.
