Migration Remittances And Development In South Asia:

South Asian Migration Zaara Zain Hussain, Md Mizanur Rahman, 2015-09-04 International migration is a dynamic global phenomenon that has been drawing increasing attention from both scholars and policymakers over the last few decades. It is particularly relevant to South Asia since the region is a vast source of sojourner migrant labour as well as home to permanent immigrant and diaspora communities. The chapters brought together in this volume provide insights into the study of international migration, diaspora engagement and remittances in South Asia. In particular, they analyse the implications of this phenomenon in relation to development and shed light on migration and diaspora-led development in two sections: firstly, Remittance Induced Development and secondly, Diaspora Induced Development. The geographic focus of the volume is the global South Asian emigrant population who live outside the region. This volume demonstrates that international migration, remittances and development offer an exciting field of academic study as well as a vibrant area of policy study. Its multi-disciplinary dimensions enlarge its scope and applicability across several domains. As such, this volume offers an important contribution to the growing field of international migration in both the academic and policy spheres.

Migration, Remittances and Development in South Asia Saman Kelegama, 2011-08-08 Through a nuanced look at the role of remittances in bringing about development, the book takes cognizance of the fact that remittances alone are unlikely to lift people out of poverty; rather, it is their interplay with other economic, social and cultural factors which determine the scale and type of impact remittances can have on poverty reduction. The book also examines how migration should be brought into the mainstream of development planning where development must be understood as a dynamic process implying growth, advancement, empowerment and progress with the goal of enlarging the scope of human choices and creating an environment where citizens can live with dignity and equality.

Migrant Remittances in South Asia M. Rahman, T. Yong, A. Ullah, 2014-11-25 This volume provides theoretical treatments of remittance on how its development potential is translated into reality. The authors meticulously delve into diverse mechanisms through which migrant communities remit, investigating how recipients engage in the development process in South Asia.

GULF MIGRATION, REMITTANCES, AND IMPACT ON RURAL HOUSEHOLDS IN TELANGANA Dr. N. Ganesh Naik, 2024-12-03 Human migration is one of the most important aspects of social sciences. Throughout human history, people have migrated to escape poverty and persecution and to improve their life chances and living standards. Migration or, more exactly, mobility of some form is a universal experience and it is rare for anyone to spend his or her entire life within the boundaries of a single village or city ward and when this does occur, it is more likely to be due to some physical or mental handicap than to choice. Ronald 1997 On the whole, different parts of the world have experienced different types of mobility caused by various socio-economic conditions. Since a better life and livelihood are at the root of the decision to migrate, WHO 2006. As per World Bank statistics, around 34 per cent of the world
