relationship between precocious kids and their ludic guardians    Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix,2011-11-03 This study explores how British identity has been explored and renegotiated by contemporary writers It starts by examining the new emphasis on space and place that has emerged in recent cultural analysis and shows how this spatial emphasis informs different literary texts Having first analysed a series of novels that draw an implicit parallel between the end of the British Empire and the break up of the unitary British state the study explores how contemporary writing in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales contributes to a sense of nationhood in those places and so contributes to the break up of Britain symbolically Dix argues that the break up of Britain is not limited to political devolution in Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales It is also an imaginary process that can be found occurring on a number of other conceptual coordinates Feminism class regional identities and ethnic communities are all terrains on which different writers carry out a fictional questioning of received notions of Britishness and so contribute in different ways to the break up of Britain    Dangerous Edges of Graham Greene Dermot Gilvary,Darren J.
