Teaching Citizenship in the 21st Century Despina Karakatsani, Vassiliki Pliogou, 2026-01-01 This book offers a comprehensive and nuanced approach to citizenship education. It analyzes the interactions between cultural differences, national objectives, global and local imperatives, and their impacts on citizenship teaching and learning, and also evaluates the impacts of gender, sustainability, democracy, and human rights media education and design thinking on citizenship education. It emphasizes the importance of harmonious coexistence, multilevel engagement, practical experiences, and the interconnectedness of democratic citizenship and human rights education. This book serves as a resource for educators to design lessons, develop teaching materials, and engage students in meaningful discussions about citizenship education and its various dimensions. It also serves as a catalyst for reflection on the need for policy making as well as curricula changes.

Under Pressure? Marcel Bradtmöller, Sonja B. Grimm, Astrid J. Nyland, Noa Lavi, 2025-08-07 This open access book gathers different case studies of resilience and coping strategies in hunter-gatherer societies who were confronted with natural hazards. Joined in this book, authors display a range of strategies how people could face natural hazards and climate change, how they manage stress at a group or personal level, and how they transmit their knowledge about dreadful events and successful responses to later generations. Consequently, this book is primarily for a scientific audience focused on hunter-gatherers but will also provide insights for those interested in human responses to crisis and change.
