the pitfalls of indefinite freedom For better productivity work must stay in the Workspace and everything else must remain outside of the Workspace I understand that everyone has a different amount of space and budget available in their homes and especially for those who share their home with others it may be difficult to designate an entirely separate room or area as a Workplace but it is not impossible First we must consider what is essential for setting up an ideal Workplace and then we can work on individual budget and space constraints A successful entrepreneur and Working From Home dad Jeffrey Hamilton who lives in a two bedroom apartment with his wife and two little girls tells the secret of his WFH success When I started my Business consultancy service from home I invested in a desk that could be closed at the end of each working day There was a strong reason to have such desk as it prevented me from putting my personal items in it when I was not working and to ensure my clients private and confidential information was not compromised The greatest advantage of having this desk however was that it created a clear boundary between work and family time when the desk was open it meant I was at work My wife and daughters knew that when I was at work they should not call me unless there was an emergency They always waited patiently and supported my working environment I also was extremely strict with my personal calls and only answered my phone outside of the desk s opening hours Download or get a paperback to read Jeffrey s story and other success stories of Working From Home Mums and dads
