Sri Lanka National Bibliography ,2015 Ethics of Engagement in Research Practices Michela Cozza,Anna Carreri,Barbara Poggio,2024-10-04 This book elaborates on the concept of response ability Although the notion is becoming popular in organization and management studies to talk about the ethical dimension of academic practices and research work it has been formulated outside this discipline with Joan Tronto Donna Haraway Vinciane Despret and Karen Barad as key authors This book honors the foundational contribution of these scholars and their legacy This book adopts a feminist posthumanist definition of response ability as an iterative and emergent process that unfolds within embodied relations and through academic practices A response able academic practice intertwines personal reflexivity and critical analysis of the politics underlying our ways of knowing and doing in academia Furthermore a response able approach requires us as researchers to pay attention to the consequences of our research practices through which multiple encounters are made possible or impossible By offering empirical examples and theoretical elaborations this book invites students researchers and practitioners to find ways of embodying response ability when generating knowledge text will assist readers to engage with the conceptual and theoretical challenges and developments associated with spirituality and spiritual care. The book offers very practical insights and steps for introducing and advancing spiritual assessment in a wide range of healthcare settings. The adoption of a life span approach means that concepts such as spirituality, spiritual care and assessment can be better understood by healthcare professionals working in specialist fields of practice. Each chapter will draw upon up to date evidence to demonstrate the development of both the art and science of spiritual assessment. The book will continue to challenge contemporary thinking asking for healthcare professionals working within a diverse range of care settings organisations, institutions, educational contexts to evaluate their practice in relation to spiritual assessment. A primary goal of this 2nd Edition is to continue to advance thinking and practice in spiritual assessment by using a lifespan approach that offers insight into the dilemmas, obstacles, deficits that inhibit or prevent nurses and other allied healthcare providers from supporting clients and patients with their spiritual needs. Speech-Language Pathologists in Early Childhood Intervention Kathleen D. Ross, 2017-11-01. Speech Language Pathologists in Early Childhood Intervention: Working with Infants, Toddlers, Families and Other Care Providers presents practicing clinicians and graduate students with the skills necessary to provide evidence based best practice services to young clients struggling to gain functional communication skills and their families. It also serves to broaden the understanding of early intervention within the field of speech language pathology. Through research, real life scenarios and practical documents, the text presents positive advocacy for this population. The text begins with a general overview of the history and rationale for early childhood intervention, including the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) Part C program and Early Head Start, as well as a description of the need for speech language pathologists in early intervention. The majority of the text offers assessment and intervention strategies and tools, including specific tests and curricula, training resources and the importance of using ongoing assessment for this young age. Strategies for coaching parents and collaborating with professional colleagues as well as working within daily routines in natural environments for the child, all integral components of the Part C early intervention program, are interwoven throughout. The text concludes with the importance of viewing children holistically, taking into consideration all aspects of a child's being and acknowledging the interrelatedness of their developing skills as well as the importance of family in their development. Speech language pathologists have a critical role in evaluation, assessment and intervention for young children with or at risk for communication disorders. Speech Language Pathologists in Early Childhood Intervention creates a pathway for investing in the principles and activities of early intervention that can lead to best practice and positive outcomes for this young population.
