Please keep this guide for reference. It is designed to be simple enough for anyone to understand how to pass firefighter placement tests and other written exams.

Before they're named an NFPA firefighter, all candidates must pass several tests. These tests measure different skills and knowledge areas. Here are some tips to help you prepare for these tests:

- Always read the test instructions carefully. Make sure you understand what is required before you begin.
- Take as much time as you need to answer each question.
- Don't worry about getting every question right. Instead, focus on getting the questions you know best right.
- Remember that each question is worth the same amount of points, so don't spend too much time on any one question.

After you've left the test, review what you know. Then, start studying the areas you didn't do well in. This will help you prepare for the next test.

Remember, there are many different types of tests. Some tests are easier than others. Some tests are harder than others. Each test has its own unique challenges and requirements.
