Mediating Migration Pgmc Polity Global Media And Communication Series:

Mediating Migration Radha Sarma Hegde, 2016-05-27 Media practices and the everyday cultures of transnational migrants are deeply interconnected. Mediating Migration narrates aspects of the migrant experience as shaped by the technologies of communication and the social, political, and cultural configurations of neoliberal globalization. The book examines the mediated reinventions of transnational diasporic cultures, the emergence of new publics, and the manner in which nations and migrants connect. By placing migration and media practices in the same frame, the book offers a wide-ranging discussion of the contested politics of mobility and transnational cultures of diasporic communities as they are imagined, connected, and reproduced by various groups, individuals, and institutions. Drawing on current events, activism, cultural practices, and crises concerning immigration, this book is organized around themes: legitimacy, recognition, publics, domesticity, authenticity, that speak to the entangled interconnections between media and migration. Mediating Migration will be of interest to students in media communication and cultural studies. The book raises questions that cut across disciplines about cutting edge issues of our times: migration, mobility, citizenship, and mediated environments. The SAGE Handbook of Media and Migration Kevin Smets, Koen Leurs, Myria Georgiou, Saskia Witteborn, Radhika Gajjala, 2019-10-31 The SAGE Handbook of Media and Migration offers a comprehensive overview of media and migration through new research as well as a review of present scholarship in this expanding and promising field. It explores key interdisciplinary concepts and methodologies and how these are challenged by new realities and the links between contemporary migration patterns and its use of mediated processes. Global Children, Global Media D. Buckingham, 2007-11-12 Children today are growing up in a world of global media. Many have also become global citizens through their experience of migration and transnational networks. This book reviews research and debate in the media, globalization, migration, and childhood with empirical research in which children's voices are featured prominently and directly. Handbook of Research on the Global Impact of Media on Migration Issues Okorie Nelson, Babatunde Raphael Ojebuyi, Juliet Wambui Macharia, 2019-09-12 This book examines the role of media structures and institutions in tackling migration issues and other related issues. Migration, Media, and Global-Local Spaces Esther Chin, 2016-04-08 This book explores how we define our social spaces in a world of globalization, cultural diversity, and media convergence. It invites us to consider how each of us relates to multiple people and places worldwide through migration and media. Critiquing our focus on nation, state, and particular countries of origin and settlement, this book offers a new conceptual approach to study contemporary migration and media. Drawing on in-depth interviews with Singaporean university students in Melbourne, Australia, this book details how we organize our social relations into diverse configurations of global and local spaces. This book aims to help university students, researchers, and members of the public to think more critically about how we develop our mental maps of the world, experience the migration of others, and ourselves, and shape our media environments. Global Perspectives on Media, Politics, Immigration,

Advertising, and Social Networking R. Yahya Kamalipour, 2019-10 This eclectic and multicultural volume contains 17 papers authored or co authored by 25 scholars and doctoral students representing 11 countries They discuss a wide range of global issues including immigration marginalization identity mass media politics social networking education digital media advertising and globalization This book will be an excellent supplement to senior and graduate level courses in international communication cultural studies mass media journalism global studies political communication intercultural communication and related subjects

Media, Diaspora and Conflict Ola Ogunyemi, 2018-08-10 This edited collection argues that the connective and orientation roles ascribed to diasporic media overlook the wider roles they perform in reporting intractable conflicts in the Homeland Considering the impacts of conflict on migration in the past decades it is important to understand the capacity of diasporic media to escalate or deescalate conflicts and to serve as a source of information for their audiences in a competitive and fragmented media landscape Using an interdisciplinary perspective the chapters examine how the diasporic media projects the constructive and destructive outcomes of conflicts to their particularistic audiences within the global public sphere The result is a volume that makes an important contribution to scholarship by offering critical engagements and analyzing how the diasporic media communicates information and facilitates dialogue between conflicting parties while adding to new avenues of empirical case studies and theory development in comprehending the media coverage of conflict
