Oranje En Stuart 1641-1672:

Oranje en Stuart, 1641-1672 Pieter Geyl, 1963 The Rhyme and Reason of Politics in Early Modern Europe C.E.

Harline, 2012-12-06 Herbert Rowen has always insisted that historians don't need biographers. Outside a small circle of family, friends, and students, what matters most is not the individual but his or her work. Thus the main purpose of the present volume is to highlight Professor Rowen's contributions to the political history of early modern Europe. Part I includes an assessment of his work by others, while Parts II-V contain examples of his best articles, papers, and reviews, some published here for the first time, most previously hard to get. These essays not only add substantively to our understanding of early modern politics but treat both implicitly and explicitly the historian's task per se. Hence this is not biography, much less innocuous laudation or hagiography, which Herb would not forgive. Yet it is only fitting that someone who lays so much stress on the human side of History should by way of introduction have something said about his person as well as his work.

Printed Pandemonium Michel Reinders, 2013-01-28 Printed Pandemonium is a fresh take on one of the most violent political upheavals in early modern history: the popular riots, the political murders, and the brutal purifications of local governments in the Dutch Republic during the so-called Year of Disaster 1672. Printed Pandemonium gives an insight into the relationship between political event and political communication in the early modern world. The popular revolts of 1672 were the work of normal citizens who rioted and killed but also politically participated by reading, writing, and debating hundreds of different pamphlets and petitions that were put on the market during that momentous year. In total, somewhere between one and two million pamphlets flooded the Dutch Republic in 1672. This study is the first analysis of all these pamphlets.

Fifty Key Thinkers on History Marnie Hughes-Warrington, 2014-09-04 Fifty Key Thinkers on History is an essential guide to the most influential historians, theorists, and philosophers of history. The entries offer comprehensive coverage of the long history of historiography, ranging from ancient China, Greece, and Rome through the Middle Ages to the contemporary world. This third edition has been updated throughout and features new entries on Machiavelli, Ranajit Guha, William McNeil, and Niall Ferguson. Other thinkers who are introduced include Herodotus, Bede, Ibn Khaldun, E. H. Carr, Fernand Braudel, Eric Hobsbawm, Michel Foucault, and Edward Gibbon. Each clear and concise essay offers a brief biographical introduction, a summary and discussion of each thinker's approach to history, and how others have engaged with it, a list of their major works, and a list of resources for further study. A Naval History of England: The formative centuries Geoffrey Jules Marcus, 1962
