Third Symposium Proceedings. New Ways of Teaching and Learning Janina Morska, Alan Rogerson, This volume contains the papers presented at the Third International Symposium on New Ways of Teaching Learning held from August 6-10, 2024 at the Aemilia Hotel Bologna Italy. The Conference was organized by The Mathematics Education for the Future Project, an international educational project founded in 1986 and dedicated to innovation in mathematics, statistics, science, and computer education world wide.

The Teachers' Standards in the Classroom Roy Blatchford, 2015-05-20. All teachers and trainee teachers must work towards and within the framework of the Teachers' Standards. This book is the essential guide to the application of these standards in the classroom. The text supports you to interpret the standards effectively and independently and to apply them to your teaching. The chapters mirror the standards themselves and practical guidance and classroom-based examples help link theory to practice. The text also enables you to enhance your understanding of the standards and improve your teaching and professional practice. This second edition has been updated to include notes on the new OFSTED framework and the new National Curriculum. Also included are more questions to help trainee teachers think around the standards in relation to placements and assess how and whether they have met the requirements.

Resources in Education, 1999-10. Numbers Games Paul Lee Thomas, 2004.

American schools are often the victims of numbers games because education is in the hands of politicians, the populace, and pundits. How Americans view numbers, science, and research profoundly impacts the ability of politicians to manipulate our schools from pre-K through graduate education. Even in classrooms, teachers are routinely implementing flawed assessment strategies based on misguided assumptions about numbers and commonly held statistical truths. American educators need to step out from under the restrictive mandates of politicians and their growing mania for measuring students; they need to leave the numbers games behind and take control of their profession.

Connecting Equity, Literacy, and Language Althier M. Lazar, Kaitlin K. Moran, Shoshanna Edwards-Alexander, 2023. This book shows literacy professionals how to develop the dispositions and actions associated with advocacy-focused teaching. While portraits of culturally conscious literacy teachers are now readily available, becoming such a teacher continues to be a challenge. Drawing from 60 years of experience working with teacher candidates and teachers in the city of Philadelphia, the authors argue that becoming an advocacy-focused literacy teacher requires making moral commitments to students and developing professional competencies that fuse literacy, language, and equity studies. Recognizing that educators can be overwhelmed trying to match the realities they face daily with the theory behind good practice, Connecting Equity, Literacy, and Language packs a lot of big ideas into one readable, concise book that is perfect for use in literacy methods courses. The text includes definitions and examples of equity concepts, relatable teacher vignettes, and Pause and Reflect boxes to encourage reflection and classroom conversation Book Features Examines the central problems of students disconnection with school spirit murdering and the teacher education gap Looks at inequities that have become normalized in classrooms and schools through standardized testing literacy teaching routines and structures and deficit laced language about students and families Discusses literacies and languages as cultural practices and the need to be vigilant about the linguistic violence that occurs when students languages are delegitimized Describes critically and culturally centered teaching frameworks Provides vivid examples of advocacy focused teaching
