Making a Difference in Marketing Jonathan Cahill, 2017-03-16 Establishing a difference is the lynchpin of marketing. It can be achieved in many ways, often not overtly competitive. The results are often both magical and powerful, such as changing the price of a little-regarded fish from 0.05 a kilo to 1.00 at little expense. But as with many other areas which have great value, this potency has resulted in marketing sometimes being shrouded in complexity. This book hopes to cut through these complexities and emphasise the pivotal nature of differentiation based on the many cases, histories cited and the advances in the related fields referred to, particularly the work of psychologists such as Daniel Kahneman.

analytics there is an understanding that the challenges of tomorrow cannot be solely addressed by today's people, processes and products. There is still considerable mystery, hype and fear about AI in today's world. A considerable amount of current discourse focuses on a dystopian future that could adversely affect humanity. Such opinions with understandable fear of the unknown don't consider the history of human innovation, the current state of business and technology or the primarily augmentative nature of tomorrow's AI. This book demystifies AI for the enterprise. It takes readers from the basics, definitions, state of the art, etc. to a multi-industry journey and concludes with expert advice on everything an organization must do to succeed. Along the way, we debunk myths, provide practical pointers and include best practices with applicable vignettes. AI brings to enterprise the capabilities that promise new ways by which professionals can address both mundane and interesting challenges more efficiently, effectively and collaboratively with humans. The opportunity for tomorrow's enterprise is to augment existing teams and resources with the power of AI in order to gain competitive advantage, discover new business models, establish or optimize new revenues and achieve better customer and user satisfaction. HR Competencies David Ulrich, 2008.
