Dear [Mr./Ms./Mx.] [Hiring Manager's Last Name],

The first paragraph should contain a self-introduction. Write who you are, where your expertise lies, where you found the job posting (or who referred you), and why you want to apply.

The second paragraph should respond directly to the job description. Describe how your relevant experiences, skills, and abilities help you meet the company's needs. To make that easier, you can (and should) literally include words and phrases from the job description here.

- You can also include a bulleted list of your accomplishments
- Make sure you quantify (add numbers to) these bullet points
- A cover letter with numbers is 100% better than one without

To go the extra mile, research the company and try to find out what they are doing — and why— given the current state of their industry. Explain how you can fit into that framework, and help push the company forward and achieve any goals you suspect they have.

The final paragraph is the "call to action" portion of your cover letter. Inform the hiring manager that you'd love to get interviewed. Give them your contact information. Tell them you'll reach out again next week if you don't hear back. Thank them for their time.

Sincerely,

Thomas Beasley

Geodesy? What's That? Irene K. Fischer, 2005 Geodesy the measurement of the size and shape of the earth fascinating since the time of Erathosenes became a basic science for the space program Irene Fischer was a leader in the construction of the World Geodetic System has an Earth reference ellipsoid named in her honor when it was still being done by surveyors piecing together terrestrial gravitational and astronomical data By the 1970s satellite geodesy and marine geodesy were just coming into their own Using her career Fischer revels in explaining how the science unfolded and how misunderstandings occur across scientific fields e g why the standard ocean and the geoid do not easily translate across the fields of oceanography and geodesy Her account should appeal to those writing the history of women in science Government science too is less well studied than academic science even though some fields such as geodesy were always government led Fischer provides food for thought as well to those who claim to study the management of science in bureaucratic settings different from those of industry or academia Peppered among these themes are Fischer s solutions to historical mysteries such as why Columbus used a figure for the size of the earth s circumference that was so much smaller than Erastothenes or Posidonius with the added benefit of making it easier to persuade his patrons
