Why Learn GRAMMAR?

Learning Spanish grammar will help you speak and write in Spanish. It will also make your understanding of your own grammar and bring improve your English. So, let's get started!

WHAT IS GRAMMAR?

Grammar refers to the different types of words in a language and rules on how to put words together to form correct sentences. When you speak in English, you don't often think about grammar. You know if something is correct or not just by the way it sounds or feels. You've developed this intuition about English after hearing spoken English many times. When you learn a foreign language, you have to think about grammar and rules! This guide describes the different parts of speech and their uses in Spanish. It also explains grammar from English, with an easy to understand pace, and makes it fun!

PRONUNCIATION

Spanish pronunciation is relatively easy once you know the sound that each letter or combination of letters makes.

Alphabets

Spanish has five vowels:

- Each Spanish vowel always has the same sound.
- Spanish vowels are pure. They do not have a final glottis, unlike many English vowels.

LETTER	NAME	EXAMPLE	EXAMPLES
a	ah (similar to English short)	apple
é	ay (similar to English play)	day
í	ee (similar to English short)	ee
ó	oh (similar to English sound)	oh
ú	oo (similar to English short)	oo

Consonants

- Spanish also has digraphs, which are combinations of two vowels (a, e) and a single vowel (i, o, u) to form new sounds. At the end of a word, the unvoiced sound is replaced with a glottis, such as in says (I say). But, there are three cases, and say things! In a digraph, the vowel sounds are not removed. The following are examples of uses of these combinations. This is not a complete list.

LETTER	EXAMPLE
ai	ai (ay)
ei	ey
ie	ee
uo	oo (oh)
oo	oo (oo)

Consonants

Spanish has nearly ten consonants:

- Under the pronunciation of Spanish consonants, Spanish consonants are very specific pronunciations, depending on where they occur in a word or what sounds precede or follow them. We are going to focus only on these sounds here.

NOTE: Depending on the region, the vowel pronunciation, the pitch, the length, the tone, the stress, and even the accent may differ. Spanish, for example, is a tonal language. The pronunciation of a word is always only to certain regions of Spain. The letters B and V are pronounced the same. If the letter B appears before a vowel, then the sound of English B is pronounced. If the letter V appears before a vowel, then the sound of English V is pronounced. The letter G is pronounced like the letter J in English. The letter H is pronounced like the letter H in English.

LETTER	NAME	EXAMPLE	EXAMPLES	NOTES
b	b	b	b	Spanish also has digraphs. See below for specific digraphs. Note that in Spanish the letter B is not pronounced like the letter B in English.
