No More Theories Please! L. K. Masao, 2009-01-16 No More Theories Please A Guide for Elementary Teachers is a classroom management guide for current and prospective elementary classroom teachers In the book Masao discuss the 3 Rs of management rules routines and reinforcement as well as behavior management plans and organization Some chapters provide templates of management systems that the author created and implemented successfully in her own classroom Unlike many other education texts this book does not speak in theoretical terms Rather it provides a how to guide that clearly defines each strategy and procedure The book is divided into three sections organization routines rules and reinforcement and classroom behavior management systems Each section has three or four chapters and provides tangible and pragmatic steps that can be taken to create the structured environment desired Masao writes with a conversational tone guiding the reader through the process Country Guide ,1930

Monthly Economic Review ,1960 Battery Man ,1929 Elementary School Teachers' Mathematics Instructional Decision Making in the Context of District Mandates on Instruction Heather Anne Martin,2008 In the current educational climate teachers in low performing schools are experiencing pressure from state and district policy makers to raise student performance on state tests Some district administrations have undertaken various measures including implementing numerous and specific mathematics content standards adopting particular curricular packages and requiring teachers to use them as their primary instructional materials and even creating pacing guides with uniform timelines for presenting lessons to students These efforts have had the cumulative effect of urging teachers to stick closely to a standard curriculum in order to raise student test scores Teachers must also interpret and attend to the needs of their students and ideally teach their students to understand mathematical concepts and processes as opposed to narrowly mastering procedural skills It may not always be possible to both follow administrative mandates about instruction and meet student needs and teachers may have to make a compromise between these two objectives In this study I examined how elementary school teachers in a particular accountability pressured school decided to teach mathematics Drawing on multiple interviews and ten classroom observations per teacher I created portraits of the mathematics instructional choices of four second grade teachers including their use of instructional materials such as textbooks I drew on an analytical framework adapted from Stein Grover and Henningsen 1996 to assess various features of the lesson in order to note the interaction between the materials and the teachers decisions about how to use them I developed a lesson signature for each teacher a visual representation of the typical organization of the teacher s lessons and how materials were used within them My findings indicated that the teachers individual goals for their teaching beliefs about their students needs and interpretations of the district s curricular mandates interacted to steer their instructional choices to very different results Two of the teachers dutifully followed the textbook while two essentially disregarded it in favor of other materials Teachers own senses of their autonomy to make curricular decisions and their support for their students autonomy in learning math emerged as important factors I suggest implications for teacher professional development and curricular materials development The Family PC Guide to Cool PC Projects Sam Mead,1996-09-05 From calendars coloring books kids stationery multimedia shows masks and birthday decorations to family trees newsletters travel planners and yearbooks this book offers parents a hands on cookbook approach to projects kids ages three to 15 will enjoy With full color illustrations and a multimedia CD ROM featuring product demonstrations this is a one stop shop for turning your PC into a craft factory     Frame by Frame Sharyn Lowenstein, Peaco Todd, 1999 For courses in Freshman Orientation Seminar College Study Skills Developmental Reading Writing or Mathematics Unique in approach visually appealing and as user friendly as possible this college orientation study skills text offers solid comprehensive information combined with a sense of humor in the form of instructive upbeat and engaging cartoons Accessible both to struggling as well as more experienced students it follows the trials and tribulations of a diverse easy to relate to group of cartoon characters as they encounter the typical and some not so typical challenges of today s college experiences Because of its engaging presentation style including over 100 full color cartoon strips this text doesn t just tell students what to do but shows the consequences of taking or not taking action and demonstrates how others solve common college dilemmas It offers strategies and information about the critical areas of time management reading and notetaking writing test taking faculty relationships money matters negotiation with family and friends and crisis resolution
