However the incorporation of literary texts into language curriculum is not easy to tackle. As a result it is vital to explore the latest developments in text based teaching in which language culture and literature are taught as a continuum. Teaching Literature and Language Through Multimodal Texts provides innovative insights into multiple language teaching modalities for the teaching of language through literature in the context of primary secondary and higher education. It covers a wide range of good practice and innovative ideas and offers insights on the impact of such practice on learners with the intention to inspire other teachers to reconsider their own teaching practices. It is a vital reference source for educators professionals school administrators researchers and practitioners interested in teaching literature and language through multimodal texts.

Learning foreign languages: experiences of persons with disabilities and special educational needs and their teachers
Ewa Domagala-Zysk, Jitka Sedláčková, Katarzyna Karpińska-Szaj, 2025-09-22 In many parts of the world it is not a person's native language but a foreign one which is used for education work or entertainment. This is true for many European countries whose inhabitants need to learn English as a foreign language if they want to participate in education or among diverse fields in the workforce. In other parts of the world it might be Spanish, Hindi, Mandarin, Chinese, Arabic or other languages which will be serving a similar role. This need for learning a second language is understood well in many educational programs including those for students with special educational needs. However to date there is not much research of the experiences of persons with diverse additional needs as learners of foreign languages. The most robust literature covers the field of additional language acquisition among Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DHH) people cf. Domaga, a, Zy, k, Podlewska, Moritz, 2021 and others. Goals, methods and forms of teaching are fairly well described and DHH students' needs have been documented extensively. Resources in Education, 1998 How To Reach and Teach Children and Teens with Dyslexia Cynthia M. Stowe, 2000-09-04 This comprehensive practical resource gives educators at all levels essential information, techniques and tools for understanding dyslexia and adapting teaching methods in all subject areas to meet the learning style, social and emotional needs of students who have dyslexia. Special features include over 50 full page activity sheets that can be photocopied for immediate use and interviews with students and adults who have had personal experience with dyslexia. Organized into twenty sections, information covers everything from ten principles of instruction to teaching reading, handwriting, spelling, writing, math, everyday skills and even covers the adult with dyslexia. Teaching Students with Learning Problems Cecil D. Mercer, Ann R. Mercer, 2005 For courses in teaching students with mild disabilities and students at risk for school failure. Also for courses in teaching students with disabilities in inclusive and Special Education.
